Another Move in Central Bridge Case

REP. CORBETT WILL FRAME BILL FOR COMMISSION TO BUILD NEW EDSON SCHOOL

Would Have Superintendent of Schools and Representative of State Board of Education on Commission With Such Other Members as City Council and School Board Might Select

Rep. Thomas J. Corbett intends to introduce in the legislature early in the year a bill providing for a commission to build a new Edson school. Mr. Corbett has given the question considerable study. He does not believe that the legislature will favor any large loan outside the debt limit for the erection of such a school as has been proposed.

He realizes that a new school building is needed there and without delay; but he does not believe that a 30 room building should be built there for junior high school purposes.

The extension of the junior high school system to the entire city will be very costly if it calls for several new buildings to accommodate the different outlying districts of the city. Between that plan and a junior high school building in a central location, the citizens will have to decide in the near future. Indeed this question might well be settled before any additional steps are taken to build even a new Edson school or purchase expensive land for a site.

Rep. Corbett believes that a building of moderate size, but of course considerably larger than the old structure should serve the Edson district for a while.

CONTESTED WILL CASE TO REACH JURY IN SUPERIOR COURT THIS AFTERNOON

Submission of evidence in the hearing on the contested will of the late John Norton was concluded in superior court here this morning before Judge Quin and jury, and Attorney Albert S. Howard, of counsel for the contestants, then consumed one hour in his argument to the jury. When court convened for the afternoon session Attorney James J. Kerwin, of counsel for the will, began his argument to the jury, to be followed by the judge's charge to the jury.

The contestants to the will are nieces and nephews of the testator, John, Edward, Catherine and Mary Mulry, who claim that their uncle was not of sound mind and that he was unduly influenced in making his will. According to the terms of the will the estate was left to Mrs. Bridget Slaven, a sister-in-law of the testator, to Mrs. Slaven's daughter, Mrs. Mi-

TWO KILLED AT NEW BEDFORD

Workmen Thrown From Flat Car and Crushed to Death Beneath Car Wheels

Were Plunged Through Hopper in Bottom of Car When it Was Struck by Train

NEW BEDFORD, Oct. 4.—Thrown from the flat car in which they were unloading stone at Tremont Junction freight yard shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, Manuel Silva and Bernard Martin, both 45 years of age, and living at 12 South Main street, Providence, R. I., were crushed to death beneath the car wheels. The men were plunged through a hopper in the bottom of the car when it was struck by a train of three other cars, and the bodies horribly mangled.

The workmen were in the employ of the Lane Construction Co. of Meriden, Conn. Silva died almost instantly, Martin living for an hour. They were employed in shoveling the stone through one of two hoppers in the bottom of the car when an engine backed up on a spur track and pushed three full cars into the one that was being unloaded.

Gov. Walton of Oklahoma Predicts Greatest Political Battle Since Civil War During Next Sixty Days

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 4. (By the Associated Press).—Members of the Oklahoma legislature, bent on instituting impeachment charges against Gov. J. C. Walton, went into district court here today to test their authority to convene as an impanelled body without a call from the governor.

Meanwhile, a separate court has taken the executive was marshalling his forces to prevent the vitalization of a constitutional amendment, passed in Tuesday's special election, which would delegate this power to legislature.

A lengthy fight is predicted. Members of the legislature have declared they will take the case to the United States supreme court if necessary. Until a final decision is rendered, however, they have pledged to essay no further meetings.

Hearing on application to make permanent the district court injunction obtained yesterday by Gov. Walton to prevent the state election board from certifying returns from Tuesday's election to the secretary of state, is set for October 9.

The governor, charging that the election was controlled by the Ku Klux Klan, predicted in a statement last night the "greatest political battle since the Civil War" during the next 60 days.

Legislators leading the impeachment move replied with a denial that the Klan is an issue in Oklahoma. Related returns from Tuesday's election continue to give a decisive majority for the amendment.

A soldiers' bonus and four other constitutional amendments appear to have been defeated.

CONNERS BROTHERS DECIDE TO APPEAL TO FULL BENCH IN BRIDGE CASE

Local Contractors Will Appear Before Judge Crosby Tomorrow and Ask Injunction Restraining Payments by City Be Continued in Force—Determined to Fight to a Finish

Connors Bros., Lowell contractors, will tomorrow be heard in supreme court by Judge Crosby on their application for continuance of the present injunction which prevents the city from paying $28,000 to the Engineering & Service Construction Company for building the Central bridge.

Connors Bros. will appeal to the full bench of the supreme court to overrule the recent decision of the single justice who dismissed the petition of the firm for a restraining order preventing the payment on the contract. Dennis E. Connors, a member of the firm, is starting the new litigation.

When the single justice dismissed the Connors bill, attorneys for the Engineering & Service company secured an execution order and instructed deputy sheriffs to levy the money from the city. Deputy Sheriffs Gately and Jarochelle visited city hall last Thursday armed with the execution order. The treasurer's safe, with about $45,000 in cash therein, was found to be securely locked. MINERS TRAPPED 9 DAYS RESCUED

Five of the 41 Miners Buried Alive for Nine Days Rescued at Falkirk

Remarkable Escape Has Raised Hopes of Relatives of the Others Imprisoned

FALKIRK, Scotland, Oct. 4.—(By the Associated Press) Buried alive for nine days, five of the 41 miners entombed by an explosion in a coal pit near here on Sept. 25, were rescued today. The men were brought to the surface in fairly good condition and their remarkable escape has raised the hopes of the relatives of the others imprisoned. The rescuers today were redoubting their efforts.

The first thing the rescued men asked for was cigarettes. They said they existed on water after the first day, when the supply of bread gave out. The pit they were in was flooded by the explosion, but they succeeded in crawling to a ledge away from the water and finally struck a passage where they got a current of air. There they stopped, except for occasional trips for water until they were rescued.

BODY FOUND IN RIVER

James E. Livesey, 40 Years Old, Disappeared From His Home Last Night

The mystery which surrounded the disappearance last night of James E. Livesey, 40, of 80 Bowden street, and the subsequent discovery this morning of the missing man's hat and coat by Police Officer William Nelson on an embankment of the Concord river under the six-arch bridge, was cleared up about 1.30 o'clock this afternoon with the recovery of the body in 12 feet of water under the bridge by Officer William Murphy, Edward Curney and James Miller. The river had been dragged all morning and early this afternoon by employees of Undertaker William H. Saunders and members of the police department.

Disappearance over ill-health is the death theory entertained by members of the dead man's family.

For six months he had failed considerably, and was very much discouraged at times, according to his sister, Mrs. Catherine Fligg, with whom he made his home. For the past four years he had been a chauffeur in the employ of Miss Elizabeth Mitchell of the Bon Marche Co. He retired about 10.30 o'clock last night, but his sister believes he left his bed when the rest of the household was asleep. The Concord river and the six-arch bridge are near to the Bowden street residence.

Mr. Livesey was born in England but came to this country when a young boy. He has lived in this city practically all his life and counted a host of friends. He was a prominent member of the A.O.U.W.

The body was removed to the undertaker's parlors of William H. Saunders.

CIVILIAN DICTATOR SUPPORTED BY MARTIAL LAW MAY BE SET UP IN GERMANY

Move Discussed Following Retirement of Chancellor Stresemann's Coalition Cabinet—Dr. Stresemann Himself Spoken of as Well Fitted to Take Over Such Office

BERLIN, Oct. 4. (By the Associated Press).—With the retirement of Chancellor Stresemann's coalition cabinet, there is talk of the establishment of a civilian dictatorship supported by martial law. Dr. Stresemann, himself, is spoken of in some quarters as well fitted to take over such an office, in view of his experience in economics and finance. Meanwhile, he has been invited by President Ebert to form a new ministry.

The resignation of the cabinet came last night after the four socialist members had withdrawn following their rejection of a compromise proposed by the chancellor on the 5-hour law. The bourgeois members of the government, after deliberating for half an hour, voted to retire in a body and authorized Dr. Stresemann to apprise President Ebert of their decision. TO MODIFY THE VOLSTEAD ACT

New York State Chamber of Commerce Sends Resolution to Congress Urges Revision and Modification "So as to Conform With Public Sentiment"

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The chamber of commerce of New York state today adopted a resolution recommending to congress that the Volstead act should be revised and modified "so as to conform more nearly with public sentiment and on lines that are more reasonable, just and practicable."

The resolution stated that the interpretation and enforcement of the 18th amendment through the Volstead act "are not in the belief of an unquestionably large number of honorable and fair-minded people, in accordance with a strict interpretation of the 18th amendment." The result, it was stated, was great opposition to enforcement of the act.

PRICE OF COAL TO BE INCREASED HERE

In order, they say, to conform with the new price list at the mines, the coal dealers of this city will increase the price of coal tomorrow. This matter was decided at a meeting of the Lowell Coal Dealers' association, which was held last evening.

Prices on the egg, stove, nut and Franklin coal will be advanced 75 cents a ton, while the price of pea coal will take a jump of 50 cents a ton. The so-called Jeddco coal will also advance 75 cents a ton.

The increase in prices, it is stated, is due to the wage increase recently granted the mine employees. The dealers wish to announce, however, that the system of 50 cents a ton off for cash, will continue in effect. The cash prices on coal beginning tomorrow and until further notice will be as follows: Egg, stove and nut, $17.75 net; pea coal, $15 net; buckwheat, $12.50 net; Franklin, $12.75 net; Jeddco, $19 net and stove $18.50 net.

M'TIGUE WILL FIGHT

Champion Reconsiders Cancellation of Bout After Vigorous Protest From Fans

COLUMBUS, Ga., Oct. 4.—Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion at noon today unwrapped the bandages from around his slightly swollen left hand and announced he was ready to fight Young Stribbling, a Macon, Ga., high school boy for titular honors here this afternoon.

Crowd at Hotel

COLUMBUS, Ga., Oct. 4.—A squad of police today were endeavoring to disperse a gathering of about 200 fight fans from in front of a local hotel where Mike McTigue, of Ireland, light heavyweight champion of the world was nursing an "imperfectly healed fracture" of a bone in his left thumb.

The championship fight between McTigue and "Young" Stribbling of Macon, Ga., scheduled for this afternoon, was called off early today after doctors had said that McTigue's thumb was injured.

No effort was made by the fight fans to storm the hotel and the police announced they had pushed the crowd back from the entrance as a precaution.

Placecards with the champion's photograph printed on yellow colored background were being circulated in the business section of the city. Other unfavorable signs against the champion's action appeared on the rear end of automobiles. On every street corner groups of men stood, while lines formed in downtown advance seat places and holders of reserved seats were being refunded their money.

MONEY NEEDED TO COMPLETE PICTURE

Alumni of the high school, particularly those who attended the school during the stewardship of the late Cyrus W. Irish, have an opportunity to subscribe the very small sum of $18 to completely pay for the oil portrait of the former headmaster, the gift to the school of the Alumni association. The portrait was presented to the school last June and at the present time is being retouched by Mrs. Mary Earl Wood, who painted it. To date Mr. Harris has received in contributions $762.18, whereas the total cost of the portrait, including frame, is $770.

The additional $18 needed eventually will be secured, but it would be much better if it could be subscribed at once and the picture hung this fall. A subscription in any amount will be gladly received and acknowledged by Mr. Harris.

PRIZE COMPETITION WAS BIG SUCCESS

Many readers of The Sun will be interested in the response received by the recent prize competition which the Fleischmann company conducted and in which this paper played a part.

Such an overwhelming response was received that it took six judges, working night and day, one solid month to read all the replies. Nearly three million words had to be waded through before final decisions were made. The replies having to be translated from foreign languages before they could be judged.

The contest called for reports from those who have taken the Yeast treatment, on "What Fleischmann's Yeast has done for me." Contestants had also to sign a statement testifying to the accuracy of their experiences, and were required to do this in the presence of a witness.

In all, $5000 was offered in prizes. The winner of the first prize, Mrs. Lillian Ramsey of Evanston, Illinois, is to be paid one thousand dollars.

There were 192 other prize winners. They are to receive altogether the remaining four thousand dollars for their essays which, according to the judges, very closely rival Mrs. Ramsey's in interest.

Rheumatic

Agony

NOW EASILY ENDED

It does not matter to me whether you are disabled with chronic rheumatism or have only occasional twinges. I know that Allenb's, my own discovery, will stop the agony, do away with the gnawing pain and reduce the swollen joints, says Mr. Allen.

I know it will dissolve the uric acid deposits that have become deeply bedded in joints and muscles and quickly drive every trace of rheumatism from your body. I know this because I was crippled for years and many times was unable to work and Allenb made a well, robust, healthy man of me.

I know because since I cured myself hundreds have taken Allenb and speedily rid themselves of this agonizing disease.

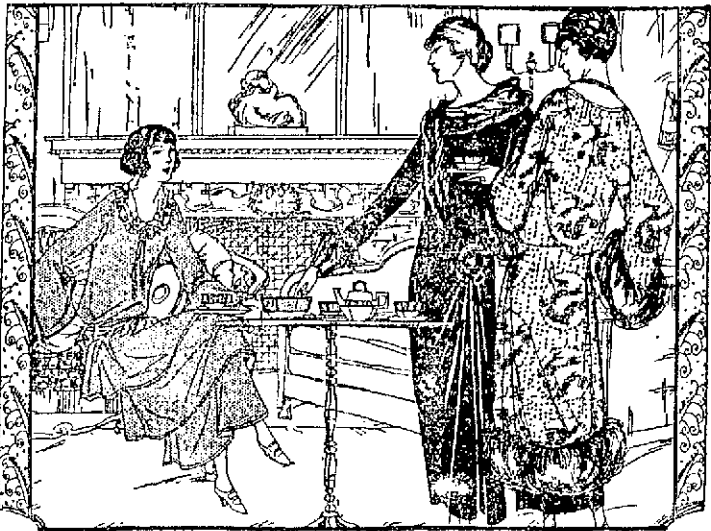

No matter how severe your case, I urge you to put your faith in the prescription that it took me years to perfect—a prescription that made a new man of me after doctors tried and failed.

Allenb is no lazzard; it starts right in at once; it gets into the blood, searches out the poisonous uric acid deposit and in two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that cause rheumatism, out of the blood through the natural channels.

Through the columns of this newspaper I authorize every druggist to guarantee one full pint bottle in every instance.—Adv.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter cough.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar. Sugar gives the syrup a full, rich, family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of century New York pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Mrs. Slaven testified that Edward Mulry ever called at her house, or that she ever refused to let anyone in her house. She denied that she ever tried to keep the Mulrys or anyone else away from John Norton. It was Mr. Norton who suggested that he go to the Slaven house.

cross-examined Mrs. Slaven at length regarding her testimony in reference to Dr. Sullivan. But she insisted that it was Dr. Sullivan who told Mr. Norton he had better make a will as Ed. Mulry was trying to make trouble for him. She said that she never expected to get any pay for the work she did at the Norton house, but went there because of her sister, Mrs. Norton.

Atty. Karwin, counsel for the will, rested at this point, and the court and counsel retired to the judge's lobby. When they returned Atty. Howard informed the jury that it was agreed by counsel that there was no record at the city institutions for Savings that any member of the Mulry family had ever attempted to prevent Mr. Norton from drawing any money from the bank.

Atty. Howard began his argument to the jury at 11.45 o'clock, and he concluded at 12.45 o'clock, at which time the noon recess was taken.

At the afternoon session yesterday Mr. H. L. Larrabee was recalled to the stand and resumed his testimony. Mr. Norton in May of 1921, about a month after the will was made. In his opinion Dr. Larrabee said that Mr. Norton was mentally capable of transacting business affairs and disposing of his property by will.

Dr. Larrabee also testified to testing Mr. Norton with a general line of questions, nearly all of which Mr. Norton answered correctly. He asked Mr. Norton if he read the newspapers, and the latter replied that he didn't because his eyesight was not good.

Mr. Norton also told Dr. Larrabee

Jones Wins "On-to-St. Louis Race"

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—(By the Associated Press) C. S. Jones of Garden City, N. Y., today was announced winner of the "On-to-St. Louis Race" with a total of 216 points. He flew 900 miles to St. Louis. H. F. Cole, Pembina, N. D., was second; W. W. Meyer of Chicago, third, and Lawrence B. Sperry, Farmingdale, L. I., fourth.

that he had earned what he had had, an active attempt to dislodge the alleged convicts, Monte Walters of Louisville; Lawrence Griffith of Mayfield, and Harry Farland, committed from Newport. Tear gas was brought last night by the tear gas squad of the Louisville police department, were held by the authorities to be ineffective, inasmuch as their users would be exposed to the fire of the besieged men on account of the isolated site of the mess hall.

Tear gas bombs were ordered from the state arsenal and were expected to arrive today.

Victims of the convicts' desperate bid for freedom were Hodge Cunningham, shot dead; V. R. Mattingly, probably fatally wounded; W. J. Gilman, whose condition is reported critical; W. P. Gillman, Gilbert and Gillman were sent to a hospital in Paducah.

First plans today for driving the desperadoes from their stronghold without further loss of life included an ingenious scheme to use the pipes of the steam heating plant for forcing tear gas and red pepper into the room where the men are hidden.

During the fusillade yesterday a stray bullet cut one of the pipes. Clouds of steam in the room gave the prison authorities the first intimation of that fact. Today they began preparations to lead one of the mains leading to the room with gas and pepper and force it into the room with steam.

A REMEDY FOR NEURASTHENIA

This Pawtucket Man Suffered for Years and Recommends Successful Treatment

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work, mental or physical, without proper vacation periods, without proper attention to diet and exercise, also worry over the struggle for success, are the most common causes. Excesses of almost any kind may produce it. Some diseases, like the grip, will cause neurasthenia. So also will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief.

"My nerves were completely shattered," says Mr. Edmund Smith, of No. 138 North Main street, Pawtucket, R. I., "and I suffered for several years from neurasthenia. I had nervous headaches which were so severe that I would have to go to bed for hours. I was dizzy and faint at times. Spells would come on me as I was walking to work when I would feel as though I was sinking. Once I actually fell down. I had no appetite and food was repulsive to me."

"I tried all kinds of treatments but never received any benefit until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which I read about in a newspaper. After the first box I noticed that my nerves were quieter and I had some appetite. I began to get my strength back after the second box and was not so exhausted at the end of a day's work. They continued to benefit me right along and I believe they are the best remedy for such a nervous condition as I have described."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be purchased at your druggist's or they will be sent by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., postpaid, on receipt of price, six cents per box. Write for the free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System," which contains a special chapter on the treatment of neurasthenia.—Adv.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Copies of Safety Suggestions
By Chief Saunders Posted
in Firehouses

In connection with the observance of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 7 to 13, as recommended by President Coolidge, Fire Chief Saunders has promulgated a list of safety suggestions, copies of which have been placed in every fire station in Lowell.

With his characteristic thoroughness the chief reviews the damage caused in the nation, the state, and the city during the past year by fire, much of the damage being chargeable to carelessness. The list of suggestions appended to the bulletin is a highly practical one.

President Coolidge has issued a proclamation for the observance of Fire Prevention week—Oct. 7 to 13—seeking the co-operation of all the citizens in the United States in this much needed work of fire prevention.

To interest and obtain results in observance of Fire Prevention week involves no small task. This in a great measure is placed upon the shoulders of the chiefs of the fire departments throughout the country.

This responsibility falls to Chief Edward P. Saunders of the Lowell Fire department for our city. The chief therefore, asks your co-operation in this endeavor to obtain a reduction of the fire loss for the city of Lowell.

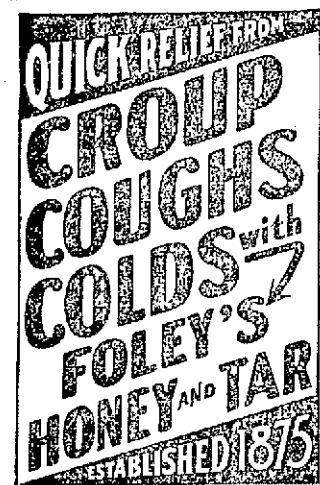

For the enlightenment of the public of our city, who are not aware of the tremendous loss of life and property each year, we submit the following: America's fire loss for the past year was $521,560,000.

Massachusetts' share was $14,660,000. City of Lowell, $167,866.85. It is therefore plain to be seen that there is a great opportunity for us to do a great deal of fire prevention work in our midst. According to statistics 15 per cent. of the fires are of a preventable nature, and are caused by carelessness in different ways. One of the most noteworthy of these is the careless use of matches. The recent $15,000,000 fire at Berkeley, California, was caused by throwing a lighted match away carelessly. There are several other ways such as children starting cross fires, placing hot ashes in wooden receptacles, fires caused by greasy substances with accumulated rubbish, careless smokers and numerous other ways.

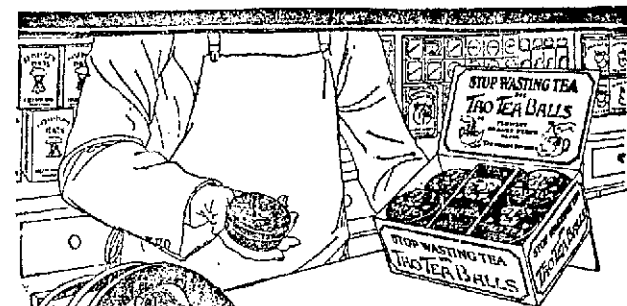

The children can help greatly along these lines of fire prevention as it is most essential for good citizenship, and you no doubt all want to be good citizens.

We might suggest a few ways that you may assist in this work. When you go home, make an inspection of the following:

1. Is there any rubbish or old papers scattered about your yard?
2. How are your ashes disposed of—in wooden barrels or galvanized iron barrels?
3. Are your matches kept in a metal receptacle, and away from the reach of children?
4. Are your parents in the habit of starting their fires with the use of kerosene? If so, have them discontinued it as several lives have been lost in this way.
5. Have your chimney cleaned at least once a year.
6. Do you know the location of the

7. Inspect your cellar and attic for the accumulation of rubbish.

If you have made the above inspections, and put into practice carelessness in place of the ever dangerous carelessness you will have done your part in reducing fire losses and in the saving of human lives, of which there are an average of 15,000 suffer death each year by fire.

We have had a number of dump fires recently which were set by boys. We hope that none of the boys here have set such fires, for even though the fire itself may not be of much consequence, it may mean death or a serious accident to the men and apparatus who respond.

It would not be amiss at this time to call your attention to a few of the suggestions offered by our cleaner city committee of the Lowell planning board, who are in accord with fire prevention work.

Say it to yourself:
I will not throw or sweep refuse into the street and leave it there.
I will not allow rubbish to accumulate on my premises.
I will not leave my barrels out 12 or 14 hours before collection time.

If you do these things, Lowell will be benefited to a great extent, and as no one knows where a fire will start, you may be the beneficiary of your act.

POISON FOUND, PROBE ORDERED

Westchester Grand Jury to Investigate Death of Mrs.
Gertrude Gorman Webb

Poison Found in Kidneys of Wealthy New York and Philadelphia Woman

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Poison has been found in the kidneys of Mrs. Gertrude Gorman Webb, wealthy New York and Philadelphia woman, and the Westchester county grand jury, it has been announced, will investigate her death in an endeavor to discover if she was murdered.

Several witnesses already have been heard by the jury, among them Dr. William J. Meyer, who attended Mrs. Webb just before her death and first indicated that she died under mysterious circumstances, and Mrs. Margaret J. Johnstone, wife of a former New York judge, who declared that her childhood friend had been the victim of slow poisoning.

Dr. A. O. Goettler, toxicologist, who examined Mrs. Webb's internal organs, made his report late yesterday in which he said that certain quantities of poison were found in the body. The grand jury put the case over until next Monday when the investigation will be begun in earnest.

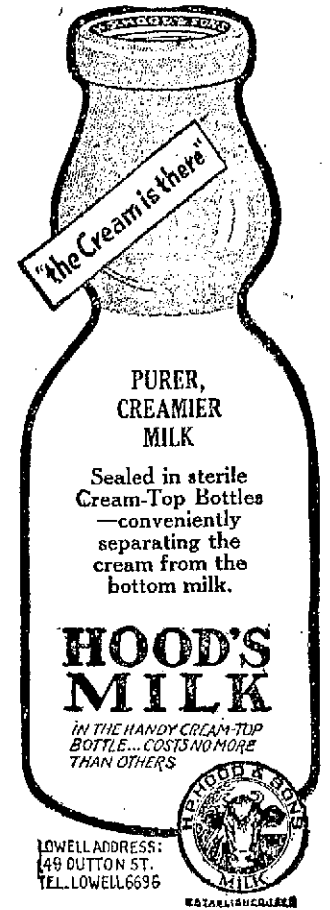

Relative's Contest Will
Relatives of the dead woman have started a contest over the three wills which disposed of her estate, estimated to be worth between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. The first will, made before her marriage to Charles Webb on Nov. 4, 1922, left her estate to relatives and to various institutions. The second, executed during her last illness, and composed of only 10 lines, left her entire estate to her husband.

The third and last will, on which the contest will be based, was made out just before Mrs. Webb's death, and left assigned by her, due to her weakened condition. This last document, which was refused by the surrogate's office on the ground that an unsigned will could not be accepted even as evidence, left the greater part of the estate to relatives, and also established a fund to care for a monument to the dead woman which was to be erected in New York.

Former Surrogate Cahalan, counsel

for the contestants, has obtained from Surrogate O'Brien an order to show cause why a temporary administrator should not be appointed to conserve the assets of the estate pending the outcome of the contest. Objections to the will are to be filed either today or tomorrow, Mr. Cahalan said.

One of the developments in the case yesterday was the statement by Dr. Meyer that when he informed Mrs. Webb that his wife's death was imminent, the latter replied: "We have been together for 10 years. One day just does not matter." "Later Mr. Webb did visit the sick room," the doctor said, "but he manifested no interest and left in about 10 minutes. He never saw his wife alive again."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
The Texas Four, which holds the leading place on the present week's bill at the B. F. Keith theatre, could keep on their work indefinitely, so successful have they been in wooing their audiences with their sweet melodies. The youngsters are really crackerjacks. This is one of several specially good acts. "Tom Heier & Co. in 'Wanna Make Some Money' scored with an unusual comedy and Dixon and Sans in a blackface turn, turn over positively the best act of its kind seen here this season. Pepito, the Spanish clown; O'Brien & Elizabeth in a musical act, and the Polka Sisters, dancers, are the other vaudeville members of the bill. "Is Money Everything," with Norman Kerry in the big role, is the picture feature.

THE STRAND

Among many moments of surprise, shock and suspense found in "Quick-Sands," the Helene Chadwick-Richard Dix feature showing at the Strand, is one so out of the ordinary that it warrants advance description. The participants are two men and a girl, a duck and a rattlesnake. The scene is a Mexican rendezvous, where evil is all about. Among the men and women there is a Mexican girl, conspicuous for her beauty and charm. She protects and encourages a stammering youth whom she knows to be a scapegrace son of Col. Patterson, in command of the U. S. military post across the border. The girl repulses the advances of Ferrago, a burly blond heartbreaker high in the confidence of the law-breakers. In his jealousy he plans to humiliate the youth, whom he suspects of being a coward. He produces cards and places them before the young man. The one who cuts the lowest will thrust his hand into a box in which is a snake, and hold it there 60 seconds. His skilled manipulation of the cards protects himself and so the boy is doomed to yield his hand to the reptile. The outcome of this ghastly prank is but the beginning of a big climax at the close. While it lasts no one can help shudder at it. The outcome must be told by the picture. You'll be surprised.

"A Man of Action" is formed "a hurricane of laughter and a cyclone of romance. Adventure, fun, a pretty girl, a young man trying to be a hero and a bunch of crooks that will keep you on the edge of your seat with excitement and make your sides ache with laughter." That's what is guaranteed with this offering. You shouldn't miss it. It's worth while. The remainder of the bill is great. Don't forget the musical numbers.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The Paramount picture, "The Exciters," co-starring Babe Daniels and Antonio Moreno, opened this afternoon at the Merrimack Square theatre, where it was greeted by an enthusiastic house. The story is a mile-a-minute tale of a mile-a-minute girl, for Bonnie Rand, portrayed by Miss Daniels, was born on an express train traveling 60 miles an hour. This damaged her Aunt Veronica, who predicted that Bonnie would be marked, sure as fate. But she wasn't even scratched in her many daring escapades. The second feature is "Other Women's Clothes," stirring story of modern life set amid elaborate surroundings. The usual program of short features, and an excellent series of musical numbers by Organist Frank A. Remick complete the bill.

THE COLONIAL

"Some Baby," featuring a large and beautiful chorus, will open at the Colonial theatre this afternoon, and will continue until the end of the week. The new musical comedy is filled to the brim with color and pep and the costumes, scenery, music and comedians are of a quality that is bound to be attractive. The show will not be a rehash of the program of the first part of the week but will be new in every particular. The theatre has been drawing capacity houses since its opening and the management is continuing to insist on comedies that will be properly staged and clean without sacrificing the action and beauty that is so necessary to please lovers of good musical comedy here. Starting this afternoon a new feature picture, "Sunkin Rocks," will be given. It has been proving a real thriller wherever it has been shown and the management is pleased to announce its start here.

OPERA HOUSE

"Alma Nora O'Brien" is fooling many this week. In particular those who attend the Opera House with the idea of seeing an Irish play with the old time costumes for "Alma Nora O'Brien" is a modern story, the story of a little Irish girl that comes to America and makes good.

Miss Hazel Corliss as "Nora" does some of the nicest acting she has done this year and presents a character that is lovable and human. Victor Brown as the youthful sweetheart of "Nora" adds still further to his line of admirers. The supporting cast all play their respective parts to good advantage and help "Alma Nora O'Brien" to be one of the most popular plays this season.

Next week the new Selwyn play, "The Exciters" will be the attraction of the Al. Lattininger Players and it promises to get full share of its New York success here in Lowell.

RIALTO THEATRE

"Those were the good old days." Or, depending upon how you look at it, those were the terrible old days. We mean, of course, the days referred to in the William Fox Special, "The Face On the Barroom Floor," which is making such a big hit at the Rialto where it is playing all week, when little old New York, and for that matter, most cities in non-prohibition states, had a saloon on every corner, and four corners to a crossing. "Joe's Place" is the name of the saloon in the picture and it is perhaps a good thing, that the "Poor Man's Club" is gone from the land. We say "perhaps" for too many people are eager to argue on any side of that still debatable question. You will enjoy the character work of Henry B. Walthall, whom all movie fans and theatregoers will agree is one of the really exceptionally good actors on the screen. As Robert Stevens, the artist, who goes down into the lower depths, he does the finest character interpretation ever seen on stage or screen. Don't miss it.

AMBITIOUS PROGRAM BY RUTH ST. DENIS

Scientific! the Ruth St. Denis production which comes to the Lowell Auditorium on Oct. 23 will be the most ambitious attempt of her career. It will be in every respect superior to last year's worthy entertainment. The program, which will be entirely new for the opening performance, will comprise the works of American composers exclusively, something which has never been attempted before in the history of dance entertainment. The new piece de resistance which Miss St. Denis has evolved to add to her chain of dance creations of the Far East, will be a Babylonian series entitled "Ishtar of the Seven Gates." Among the supporting company will be Doris Humphrey, Leonie Scheffer, Martha Hardy, Georgia Graham, Therese Sadowska, Charles Edward Weld, man, Robert Gorham and others. Seats on sale at Steiner's Oct. 13.

DANCING SEASON OPENS AT HIGHLAND CLUB

Friday evening the dancing season at the Highland club will open when the Stratfords will hold the first of their weekly dancing parties. The many followers of this popular organization have been looking forward to these occasions and the opening announcement will be good news to them. The music Friday evening will be furnished by Weldon's orchestra from Lawrence. This orchestra needs no introduction here as they played at the club on several occasions last season, and they have just finished a most successful summer at the Canobie lake pavilion. The Stratfords are well remembered by those who attended their parties last year; and Stratford nights will be even more enjoyable this season.

The Truth About Eczema and Piles

"Thousands and thousands of people," says Peterson of Buffalo, "are learning every week that one 35-cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish eczema and banish piles, and the grateful letters I receive every day are worth more to me than money." "I had eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to stop the agony. I saw your adv and got one box and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a blotch on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson, for the cure is great." Miss Mary Hill, 420 Third Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. "I have had itching piles for 15 years and Peterson's is the only ointment that relieves me, besides the piles seem to have gone." A. E. Ruger, 1127 Washington Avenue, Iacine, Wis. Use Peterson's Ointment for old sores, salt rheum, chafing and all skin diseases. Druggists recommend it.—Adv.

William Martin Classed With Greatest Operatic Tenors of the Day

Irving Scherke, one of the leading critics of the French opera stage, says of William Martin, "he is without question to be classed with the greatest operatic tenors of the day."

Such is the tribute paid in a recent Paris edition of the New York Tribune just at hand. Scherke, famous European critic, was reviewing the opening performance of "Werther" at the Opera-Comique, Mr. Martin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Martin, 90 Riverside street, had the leading role in this presentation. He left his home here late this summer to return to the French stage.

The famous critic is liberal with his appreciation of Mr. Martin's art. The Tribune review says in part:

"Werther," opera in four acts by Jules Massenet, libretto by E. Blau, Paul Milliet, and G. Hartmann. At the Opera Comique.

"The matinee performance of 'Werther' at the Opera-Comique, Thursday, amounted to a personal triumph for Mr. William Martin, an American tenor, who sang the title role. Others in the cast were Mlle. Brohl, Charlotte; Mlle. Episcopo, Sophie; Mr. Baugé, Albert; and Mr. 'Fubina,' the Baillir. Mr. Albert Wolff, conducted with his accustomed authority and finish.

"On the performance in general, it is hardly necessary to remark in this place. Werther is oft repeated in this town, the public are acquainted with its score and story, likewise the quality of 'show' the Opera-Comique puts on when it concerns itself with this piece. That quality was maintained on Thursday. Not only was it maintained, but when Mr. Martin sang he made such an enhancing contribution to it that the auditors were moved to extremely high points of enthusiasm.

"Mr. Martin's reappearance in opera was anxiously awaited. It has come to pass, and both public and opera have made valuable acquisition. From the first note of his singing to the last, Mr. Martin delivered himself of a tenor voice of extraordinary beauty, power and ravishing quality.

It is a voice that strikes home and which treats those who hear it to a genuine thrill and what opera-enthusiasts these days do not know how rare a thing is a 'thrill'.

"Mr. Martin possesses the first and most important requirement of an opera singer, viz., a beautiful, well-trained voice. In the natural, attractive quality of his voice, its sonority, its susceptibility to all gradations from sweetest pianissimo to stirring, roof-shaking climax, its color, warmth and nuance, he is, without question, to be classed with the greatest operatic tenors of the day.

"Under the spell of his singing we practically forgot such matters as acting, stage conduct, etc., only as a critic we durst not entirely do so. He freighted the air with vibrant, lovely tone. It was a pleasure to listen to him, and it is a pleasure to here record the success for which nature and application have so admirably fitted him.

"After each of his songs Mr. Martin was rewarded with long, enthusiastic applause. Mingled with it were excited cries of bravo, bis, and Martin. Part of the Tourquemet-reveiller he was obliged to repeat, and we had the feeling that, at the end of the acts the major portion of the honors were intended for him."

FIREMEN WERE BUSY
Box 113 was wounded for an automobile fire in the rear of a Common street at 4:34 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The damage was slight. At 6:05 o'clock a still alarm summoned a chemical truck to Fairbank street, where a rubbish fire was quickly extinguished. Dump fire in Allen street and on the old Fair grounds were responsible for alarms at 5:30 and 7:25 o'clock respectively.

The young man was immediately taken to the Webber hospital in Biddeford, but died within 15 minutes after being taken there.

A few months ago a younger brother of the victim, Jose Silva, 5 years old, died as the result of being struck by an auto near his home in this city. Besides his parents, Silva is survived by four brothers and two sisters, all of whom reside here. The body will be brought to this city by Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 4.—October 20 will be the date of the first race in the annual international fishermen's cup contest, if the suggestion of the trustees of the trophy is approved by the American race committee.

That date was named in the telegram signed by Secretary Eli S. Samuels of the trustees and despatched to Wilbur A. Reed of Gloucester, Mass., which telegram also carried the trustees' announcement that the American schooner Columbia has been declared eligible to compete for the trophy.

The Nova Scotia fleet race, to decide the winner of the cup, will be held off Lunenburg about Oct. 12, it was stated.

WILL NOT BECOME POLITICAL PARTY

At the convention of the American Federation of Labor at Portland, Ore., resolutions have been submitted in favor of having the organization become a political party pure and simple in order to put across certain necessary labor reforms. One of these is a proposed change in the Constitution to permit a national Child Labor law. That is a very necessary provision if such a law cannot be provided in any other way; but we believe that congress has not yet exhausted its resources in that direction. Already two such laws have been nullified by the supreme court and legislators, as well as the labor men, almost despair at being able to secure such a law without a constitutional amendment.

But no object of this kind would justify the American Federation of Labor in casting off its independence and entering the political arena as a labor party. The strength and influence of the American Federation of Labor as exerted for the last 25 years, have been based mainly upon its independent attitude in regard to politics and the fact that it stood ready at all times to support the party that it considered most favorable to labor measures. Sam Gompers may be criticised in various ways; but on this point he has always stood on solid ground. He remembers well the fiasco made of the Knights of Labor by Terrence V. Powderly when the latter projected that organization into politics. It vanished like snow from the hills; and a similar fate would overtake the American Federation of Labor if it did anything so utterly foolish as to resolve itself into a political party. That would sound its very death knell. Gompers will never favor such an idea; just as he never will favor any alliance with socialism or red radicalism. There are certain fundamentals that if not strictly observed, would quickly wreck any organization such as the A. F. of L. Mr. Gompers is a "Wise Old Bird" and on these fundamental matters, the safety of the national organization and all its affiliated branches, depends upon strict adherence to his policy of holding the A. F. of L. at all times as a free lance to be used not in the interest of any set of candidates but in promoting the strength, power and well-being of organized labor.

THE WAITING ROOM PROBLEM

It looks now as if something practical would be done toward establishing a waiting room at or near Kearney Square. The fact that the Centralville Improvement association and the Trades and Labor Council have appealed to the city council for immediate action, will help to hasten a solution of the problem. The matter has been agitated for years, but nothing has been done although a public waiting room on the square was never more necessary than at present.

During cold weather last winter women and children were obliged to take refuge in the doorways and corridors around the square to avoid freezing while waiting for cars. For a great many years, when the need of a waiting room was not nearly so great as at present, a waiting station of ample proportions was maintained by the company. Now, however, with greatly increased traffic, the expense is given as the great barrier. But public necessity is so great that if the problem can be solved by joint action of the city and the street railway, it should be done. Some would suggest a room up one flight, but it seems that a location can be found on the street floor on the square at a rental that will not be prohibitive.

THE OKLAHOMA SITUATION

Gov. Walton of Oklahoma is fighting the Ku Klux Klan very courageously in order to uphold the principles of civil and religious liberty and free government. But he must do this in a legal way; and at present it appears he is handicapped by the fact that the legal authorities of the state seem to be members of the Ku Klux Klan or else in sympathy with it and, therefore, opposed to the governor.

The Klan, it seems, has triumphed in the election on the question of initiating legislation to permit the legislature meet of its own accord and even to impeach Gov. Walton. He it was, who called the election in the first place. Later he changed his mind and endeavored to revoke the call and prevent the election. But the attorney general of the state declared the election was legal, and, therefore, the governor could not oppose it by force without running counter to the legal authorities of the state. Furthermore, an injunction which he obtained to prevent the opening of the polls was overruled by the supreme court. Whether the legal authorities are identified with the Klan or not, they are in office and must be obeyed. The situation will be watched with interest as the governor says he will still maintain martial law and that the fight has only been well begun. The governor in opposing legislation or super-government by the Ku Klux Klan, cannot afford to go to the illegal extreme of setting up a super-government of his own. It is the foremost duty of the governor to enforce the law but in the exercise of his executive functions, he must not overstep the bounds of legality.

Should the Ku Klux Klan succeed finally in getting control of the government of Oklahoma and attempt to deprive any class of citizens of their rights in accordance with its principles, then it would be time for the federal government to interfere to prevent the overthrow of free government. Otherwise civil war would result as no class of citizens who have fought heroically for American freedom since its foundation, will tamely submit to any attempt to deprive them of their rights, to question the loyalty or to discriminate against them in any way.

But it is futile to take the Ku Klux Klan too seriously. The whole movement is but an outbreak of fanaticism such as occurs here periodically and passes over, leaving those who took part in it to wonder how they ever made such fools of themselves.

REDUCING FIRE HAZARDS

Railroads are taking an active part in the observance of Fire Prevention week. In this they are serving their own interests as well as promoting the public welfare. The New York, New Haven and Hartford road has issued circulars to its employees urging them to vigilance in preventing fire losses. One of their posters in connection with the observance shows a picture of firemen directing streams of water on a burning building and in large letters this same poster has this reminder, "You can fight fire, too—before it occurs." That is a very true and significant reminder; but it is backed up by this important admonition: "Watch your lighted matches and smoking materials, clean up rubbish, remove electrical hazards, eliminate wooden shingles, repair defective chimneys and flues, be careful with gasoline and other dangerous liquids." And, finally, there appears the slogan, "Fire Loss is Permanent Waste—Do Your Part to Prevent It."

All this is good advice and it applies very generally to our New England cities. Wooden shingles should be prohibited in the thickly settled districts of every city. It is a well known fact that many forest fires are caused by hunters throwing matches carelessly in dry brush although many people also from the discharge of the firearms.

THE BONUS BILL

There is every indication that a soldiers' bonus bill will be passed by congress during the short session to open in December. That being so, the measure will be put up to President Coolidge and unless it carries a provision for raising the necessary money called for, he will be obliged to veto it, provided he keeps his promise to carry out the policy of his predecessor. Public sentiment, however, is favoring the bonus more strongly from day to day, and in view of the coming national election and the necessity of catering to the soldiers' vote, it is quite likely that the republicans will find some means of passing a bonus bill and financing it in a manner that would be acceptable to Col. Owsley and the legislative committee of the American Legion.

There are now about 2,700,000 public servants on the payrolls of municipal, state and federal governments. If the bureau that is advocated by the Smith-Towne, the Shepherd-Towne and the Sterling and other "owners" established, we shall soon reach a condition in which every man and woman in the country will be individually under control of half a dozen special government inspectors, counselors, nurses and exploiters.

The German leaders who have authorized a cessation of all resistance to France in the Ruhr are on the right track. Premier Poincaré of France has just won a great moral victory; but he alleges as yet, it is a victory in words only. France demands something more substantial than words, and Germany must give ample proof of her good intentions before the trouble in the Ruhr is entirely settled.

If the city council had refused a permit for the Saco-Lowell bridge across Union street, it would have precipitated another legal fight that would result in serious loss both to the company and to the city. It is to be hoped that the Saco-Lowell company will now carry out its promises to greatly extend its business and add to the number of its employees.

Wouldn't Spank Him

"Will you give your son a spanking right here and now, and show us how you have been punishing and correcting him?" was a question asked a father by Judge Bossey of the juvenile court at Lee. The father refused to administer the spanking and a fine of $10 was imposed.

Stationary Station

She was a countrywoman, and traveling by train was something new to her. She sat down on a seat in the station, and after waiting for two hours was approached by the station master, who inquired where she was going. "But the train's just gone," he said when she told him "Dear, dear!" I thought the whole consarn moved," replied the old woman.

Sorry He Spoke

The fussy dentist was examining the teeth of his patient and assumed an air of great wisdom. "Do you ever clean your teeth?" "Yes," replied the patient. "How many times a day?" "Twice," was the answer. "Have you had any advice before with regard to your teeth?" "Yes," I called on a chemist last night. "And what foolish advice did he give you?" The exasperated patient exclaimed desperately: "He told me to come to you."

Slight Mistake

The justice of the peace in a town in Ohio, in pursuance of his duties, had to hear and judge the cases that were brought before him and also to perform occasional marriage ceremonies. He found it difficult to dissociate the various functions of his office. Every thing had gone smoothly until he had asked one bride: "Do you take this man to be your husband?" The bride nodded emphatically. "And you, accused," said the justice, turning to the bridegroom. "What have you to say in defense?"

Waiting Time in a Village

A village merchant in the west, having experienced severe competition, started a popularity contest, offering each customer a vote on a piano, to be awarded to the resident receiving the largest number of votes. Any person bringing in a mail order catalogue was permitted to cast two votes, the result of this privilege being that three tons of catalogues were secured by the vain storekeeper, who promptly sold them for waste paper, eliminated a large part of his competition and made considerable addition to his trade. But how long will a merchant of this calibre be content with a village environment?—Providence Journal.

Too Big An Order

We doff the new John B. to the little lady from the west, a bride of four months, who visited a local fish market the other day. A Lowell girl who was with her at the time told the story.

"I want some swordfish," said the bride. "Yes," said the fish man, "how much?" "I think one will be enough," she said unconsciously. The fish man never batted an eye. He asked her to the back of the store telling her he only had a few but they were fresh and she could pick out the one she wanted. The bride soon was confronted with two average size swordfish, weighing 250 pounds each.

"I guess I'll take a pound," she stammered, blushing prettily in her confusion. "I thought they were about the same size as dried codfish," said the fish man. "Then she hurried away." She was attired in the height of fashion, and as she was strutting through the main street of the village, contempt for her lovely surroundings was written on every line—and there were many—of her face. Suddenly she caught sight of a small boy, and she stiffened with anger. The boy was a rascally fellow, and he was carrying a bird's nest full of eggs. "You're a very bad boy!" she snapped without any hesitation. A very bad boy! How could you rob the nest?" she continued. "No doubt the poor mother bird is still grieving over her loss." "Not she, mum!" came the sharp reply. "She's part of your hat!" Then the woman proceeded rather more quickly on her way.—Judge.

Lonesome

Some-where still a boy is wandering. That's my feel—once gladly true.—Path so lovely, lone and tranquil. That one seemed to walk with God. Golden meadows, feebly hillytops—What is that? Has he ever seen? Asking me, "Have you forgotten?" And I hear, though far away, And I'm lonesome.

Mountain brook, I've not forgotten; Thrush, thy anthem yet I hear; Ever you are calling, blithely. Telling me sweet summer's here. Though the road between us stretches, Oh, so long, so far away, Listen! can you hear my answer. I am coming back some day. For I'm lonesome.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

The four junior high school physical instructors, Paul Sullivan, Joseph Duffy, James Rouno and Francis O'Brien, are enthusiastic over the way their pupils have entered athletic competition and have formed a series of football games to engage the attention of the youngsters during the next few weeks. Each of the instructors is an experienced athlete and starred on high and college teams during their school careers. Under their tutelage athletes and athletes have prospered in the grammar and junior high schools and present indications point to a continuation of the success already attained.

Now that the Henry F. Sullivan reception committee has announced the purpose of its drive for funds, it is hoped that the subscription list will soon reach the $2000 mark. As the swimmer is due to arrive on October 15-16, the committee will have to justify the drive along to reach the set total. The purse will be presented to Sullivan at the Auditorium exercises on the evening of the reception. Chairman Brain of the general committee is thankful for the co-operation shown by organizations and individuals in the reception preparations and hopes to have the complete plans developed at the final meeting in Liberty hall on next Tuesday night, Oct. 9.

The touch boy simply refuses to walk between the white parallels marking the crossings and the approaches to our high schools. Stand some morning and watch the children cross the street. The ones who are obedient and have respect for authority cross between the white lines; those who are disobedient at home and in school the "touch nuts" are the ones who refuse to cross as directed. They are also the ones who get run over and killed in accidents.

Tom Sims Says

Cooking is an art. It is the art of interior decorating. A cook should know what is good taste.

While gelatin is palatable food, children eating too much may grow up and become skinny dancers.

Never think the washing powder is breakfast food or that the breakfast food is washing powder.

Always have tomato ketchup handy. By using enough of it you can eat many things you don't like.

The most sanitary way of learning to eat spaghetti is to practice with a clean bunch of siring.

Dried peaches and apples are healthy if you don't drink too much water after eating them.

Keep a little canned soup in the pantry. You can either feed it to company or throw it at burglars.

Never pick your teeth at the table. Sifting them feeling as if you would like to be more polite.

What kind of tooth paste do you use? Get a good reliable brand that can be digested easily.

Kitchens should be covered with linoleum so stains accidentally dropped won't get splinters in them.

Teeth should be brushed with an up and down motion as if you are removing restaurant steak.

Do you know how to shake hands? Shake too hard and strangers will think you are selling something.

Have you a lazy daughter? If she has bobbed hair you might make her use her head for dusting.

How far down do you wash your neck? You may have to remove your shirt before strangers come day.

Take a tip from the laundry. Remove ink spots from clothes by running them through a meat grinder.

Rocks with holes in the heels that should be worn by pulling them on only about half way.

Have you got holes in your handkerchiefs? Make a few more to match and claim it is fancy lace.

If you are getting new silverware you can make it match by always going to the same restaurant.

SERVED ANNUAL HARVEST SUPPER

The Women's association of the First Congregational church served the annual harvest supper last night at 6.30, to about 600 parish members, in the vestry of the church. Mrs. George McElroy was in charge of the supper, and assisted by Mrs. William McElroy, Mrs. C. H. McElroy, Mrs. Charlotte Buchanan, Young women of the church served the tables.

An entertainment given by the choir followed the meal and consisted of a reproduction of the old time singing school. Mrs. Anna Hard and Choir Leader Harry Barker were in charge of the presentation which was a complete success. The musical portions were well executed and the parts calling for comedy finely acted.

LIONS CLUB HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The regular weekly meeting of the Lions club was held yesterday noon at Cafe's Inn, with Dr. William M. Jones of this city as the speaker of the day. Dr. Jones' subject was "Safety." An entertainment consisting of several numbers by the club quartet followed the luncheon and preceded the business meeting. The quartet consists of Arthur Smith, Gordon Foster, Victor Carey and Horatio B. Leggat. Dr. Jones was introduced by President Charles E. Bartlett. Among the suggestions made by Dr. Jones for safety was that several of the downtown streets be made one-way, that a municipal parking space be made and parking on the main streets prohibited and that the stopping of machines be limited to the time necessary to discharge and take on passengers.

He also suggested that during the winter a large number of trucks be used for the clearing of snow from the streets and his last suggestion was that coasting be banned on the streets of the city.

WALTZ CONTEST AT ASSOCIATE HALL

A waltz contest will be held Friday night at Associate hall with Billie McCabe and partner competing against Arthur Carroll and partner. The competition will continue until both teams are satisfied and to the winner. Clock dancing will also be in order during the evening and Miner and Doyle's famous orchestra will provide the music. Geminick Monahan is in charge of the affair and a good time is promised all who attend.

SAM WALTER FOSS CLUB

The autumn meeting of the Sam Walter Foss club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Baleson, 635 Pleasant street, Dr. Walter Foss, president, presided over the evening and Miner and Doyle's famous orchestra will provide the music. OFFICIAL RECOGNITION SOUGHT BY SOVIETS

BELGRADE, Oct. 4. (By the Associated Press).—Intensive efforts are being made by the soviet government at Moscow, both here and in Prague, to obtain recognition by Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia as an entering edge to worldwide recognition.

The first recognition by any European power was expected from the Stamboulisky regime, in Bulgaria. The soviet agents in that country were in close relations with the late Stamboulisky government. It is an open secret here that only Stamboulisky's fears of complications with Great Britain and France stood between him and the carrying out of his desire to exchange diplomatic representatives with soviet Russia.

The fall of Stamboulisky made it necessary to change the field of endeavor to Belgrade and Prague. The efforts of the soviet advocates are finding a strong popular response especially in Czechoslovakia, where the anti-German feeling still exists.

In Yugoslavia soviet purposes have been accompanied by activities in the form of espionage. The latest incident is the one in which the Russian colonel, Lotka, figured prominently. Lotka arrived in Belgrade from Russia about two years ago, represented himself as a czarist officer fleeing from soviet persecution. His story, supported by documents, was credited by the war office; he received a colonel's commission and was attached to the aviation arm. Here he availed himself of every opportunity to collect military information.

But when the anti-Bolshevik Russian colony recently discovered his true character as a soviet agent, orders were issued for the colonel's arrest. Before they could be carried out, however, he took to the air in one of the planes attached to his command, and was last seen as he headed in the direction of Russia.

The incident has produced a painful impression here.

HARD-UP COLLECTORS SELL ART TREASURES

(By the Associated Press).—LONDON, Oct. 4.—Art collectors from America have sent more treasures to America since the war than were purchased by Americans during the 20 years previous to 1914.

English collectors explain that this is the result of the need for cash which is being acutely felt in England. Many formerly wealthy art collectors are forced to sell their possessions in order to meet high taxation and living costs. These treasures, to be no such condition among the American collectors, for their English agents are everywhere and always ready to seize upon any treasure that are for sale. In fact, so anxious are some of the agents to buy that they have adopted the method of calling on well known collectors and making them offers for various objects.

Art objects to the value of $10,000,000 were shipped to the United States last year.

LOOKS LIKE BIG YEAR FOR EVENING CLASSES

Indications point to a big year in the evening classes run by the city in conjunction with the state board of education at the vocational school. Over one thousand men and women have enrolled for the courses offered in trade instruction and home making. At the Mann school for men classes and classes under way in cabinet making, blueprint reading, beginners' electricity, advanced auto repair work and a class for engineers and firemen. Thursday night there will be a second session of the machinist class in charge of M. A. Butterfield, and classes will commence in advanced electricity under Chester MacDonald, beginners' plumbing under John McGinness, two classes in auto repair with George Deozis and R. Dorchester instructing, and carpentry taught by F. F. Wiggin. Under a new arrangement machinists may also take a course in blueprint reading one night a week, and practical work two nights. Principal Thos. F. Fisher hopes to have the enrollment complete this week in order that work may begin immediately.

Many of the classes in the women's division are filled to capacity. These courses are conveniently held in many parts of the city, including the high school annex in John street, the Butler, Cohun, Edson, Franklin, Greenbald, Lincoln, Moody, Pawtucket, Riverside, Varnum and Washington schools, and the Girls' City club. These classes are appreciated by the young housewives, future housewives, and business women for the opportunities afforded to learn nursing, embroidery, millinery, cooking and dressmaking under competent instructors.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

OCTOBER

There may be months with greater zest,
But I don't know 'em;
October cannot but suggest
A gladsome poem.

A month that makes your senses glow,
Your heart beat quicker,
And all your circulation flow
With tingling ichor.

The air is like a fizzy drink,
All dancing bubbles;
With such a draught how can one think
Of cares or troubles?

Red, yellow, brown, the forests blaze
With colors burning,
As all along the country ways
The leaves are turning.

Gone is the summer's lazy spell,
Its warmth and languor;
About our work we rush pell-mell.
The city's clangor

Is music full of vim and pep,
A syncopation
To which we tread a lively step
Of jubilation.

The baseball heroes fade from view,
And in their places
The pig-skin warriors show anew
Their fighting faces.

Roof-Gardens close, rathskellars wake
To sudden action,
Our appetites need chops and steak
For satisfaction.

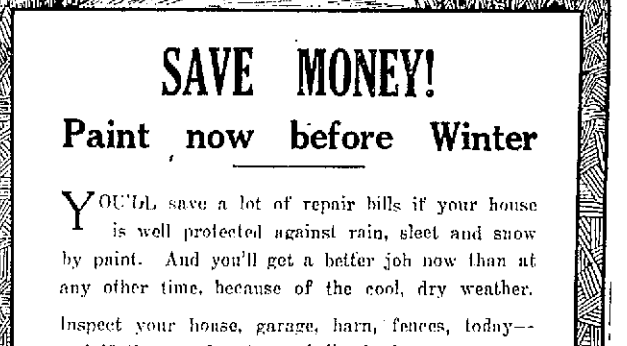

Cider and apples grace the board
In generous measure,
And apple dumplings now afford
Our palates' pleasure.

November may be dour and drear,
With heavens sober,
But now we make the best of cheer
With brisk October.

How Backache and Periodic Pains Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Olean, N. Y. — "Every month my blood would go to my head and I would have such a headache, nosebleed, backache and pains that I could not do my work. At night I could not get my rest and nothing seemed to do me any good. I read some of your testimonials about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, so I decided to try it. I had only taken two bottles when I began to feel better, and my back did not hurt me nor my head ache. I felt like a new woman. The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine and I will always recommend it."—Mrs. A. D. EARLS, 580 N. 5th St., Olean, N. Y.

In the remaining American League game of yesterday, the Athletics, profiting through the wildness of Rice, a Washington rookie, who gave six walks in the second inning, trounced the Senators, 12 to 8, thereby making a clean sweep of the series.

Dutch Ruether of the Dodgers registered his 15th win of the season when he pitched the six innings, 5 to 0, in the single National League game on yesterday's schedule. By winning the game Ruether will receive a $1000 bonus from the Brooklyn team owner.

The fraternizing of coming world's series opponents occurred when Babe Ruth, Aaron Ward and Elmer Smith of the Yankees temporarily joined the Athletics in the 10th inning, in which the Baltimore Orioles were defeated. Ruth retired from the play after making a home run in the fifth inning.

Star Catcher Thinks Hard Race in National League Has Reduced Strength of Giants—Expects Pennock to Star for Yankees placed to be in danger of losing the pennant.

Winning the pennant early has enabled Manager Linnant to give some of his players a much-needed rest. On the other hand, the Giants have been unable to go the entire route. It is surprising what a tonic a few days of rest are to a player who has been living his best every day for six months.

It is not uncommon for a team that has been hard pressed all the way to relax when the objective is accomplished. Often it is a difficult matter to get the players back on their game after they have become so relaxed. They seem to be stale.

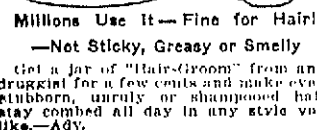

I am positive that the grueling season the Yankees were forced to go through in 1921 and 1922 had its effect on the players' play. This year it should be different. The Yankees should go into the series trained to the minute. If they lose, it cannot be blamed on lack of condition.

It is true that the loss of the players, illness and injuries have slowed several of their stars. It is a certainty that the Giants will not enter the series in as good shape as in 1921 and 1922.

However, the Giants are heat in a class, a great money team, a club possessing a manager who can get the best out of his men when the situation demands. These are just a few reasons why they should be able to respond more quickly than the average team under unfavorable conditions.

The Yankees, I feel, have the edge in condition, physical and mental in their own camp. They have supremacy in the Giants. It's quite a help.

Pittsburgh Star Pitcher Thinks Babe Ruth Will Fizzle Again in Series

BY "BABE" ADAMS

Who Pitched Pittsburgh Pirates to Victory in 1909 World Series Over Detroit Tigers, and Who Has Pitched for the Giants this Year and Seen Yankees in the End

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—In spite of the best efforts of both the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cincinnati Reds to prevent it, the fans of the country are going to witness the all-Manhattan world series this fall.

The Giants and the Yankees will be the representatives of their respective leagues for the third consecutive time, which is itself an historic feat.

I would like very much to have had a chance to oppose the Yankees this fall, as I opposed the Detroit Tigers last year. I am a member of the Red corner in major league circles. But this was not to be, and I am not selfish enough to begrudge the Giants their spoils. They had to work hard to get into a position to cash in.

I do not believe their hard fight for the pennant in their own league has harmed their world series chances any.

In fact, any sane fellow who has helped them for it has kept their minds on nothing but baseball, and has not permitted them to lay down, which is often fatal.

As for the outcome of the series is concerned, I believe that the Giants

Hero of 1914 World's Series
Bobs Up a Prospective
Hero in Coming Classic

NHW YORK, Oct. 4.—After nine long years, two of which were spent in active service in the World War, Hank Gowdy, outstanding player in the briefest world series in baseball history, bled up as a prospective hero of another title-deciding tournament.

In 1914, blammering Hank, as he then was called, was a member of the Boston Braves—that precedent-wrecking outfit which jumped from the National league to the minor side of the year, and continued to jump until it reached the National league roof, and then proceeded to capture the world's championship by defeating Connie Mack's Athletics in four straight games.

Early this season Hank became the property of the Glants, coming from the Boston Braves with first baseman Jack Watson in exchange for Earl Smith and Jess Barnes. As a Giant he will gain his second opportunity to figure in the all-important tie contests. This time the contest will be in the Braves' history of 1914, both during the league season and the world's series. He has been a very helpful member of the Glants this year and, Giant or not, he has been an equal or greater brilliancy in the approaching battles with the Yankees. His world's series batting average in 1914 was .585, and his league registered four double, one triple, and one home run in 11 times at bat.

Coincidental with the launching of a drive for $3500 by the high school students to pay off the indebtedness on Mumm field, a group of football enthusiasts, headed by Maurice Condney and Fred Desmond, representing the Melville A.A., have begun the circulation of a petition among the sporting fraternity of the city, requesting the High School Mumm association to lease the Mumm field for the use of Mumm field for Sunday football games. The circulars made their appearance yesterday and are being signed with great rapidity by devotees of the popular game. The circulars, with the signatures attached, will be presented to the executive committee of the Mumm association as soon as the petition has been signed by a sufficient number of names have been secured. The action is taken in view of the fact that Lowell is and has always been without a suitable place upon which to conduct football contests in regulation style. As Spalding park, Mumm field and the property of the city school board, which are the enclosed grounds in the city, amateur teams feel they should be given some consideration in the matter of rental. The city school board, which owns the South commons, Shedd park and other public playgrounds are available for such usage, is discouraged by the proposition to enclose the Mumm field, who contend that football cannot be conducted along sportsmanlike lines on the above-mentioned grounds because the players would be unable to render effective play difficult.

In order to accommodate the large crowd that is expected to attend the football game between the Concord, N. H., and Lowell high schools at Alumni field, the board of trustees of the Alumni Association, headed by its president, Headmaster Henry H. Harris of the high school, have made arrangements with the park department for the erection of the latter's temporary teachers along the side of the playing field.

Enthusiasm among the students over the drive for $5000 for the raising of Alumni field is at fever pitch. The school switch and the school daily to secure contributions for this purpose. A ready response has been met among the downtown merchants and the downtown residents. Collected over $25 in one afternoon. A contribution of $25 from an unsolicited contributor has been added to the fund, and Mr. J. H. Harris, president of the Alumni Association, has announced that the winning room's total at the close regarding games. But as far as renting the park for Sunday games to the public, it is charged that the Association is not charged with the duty of complying with the laws of the commonwealth."

Edward W. Troll, clerk of the district court and treasurer of the Alumni Association, testified that he had seen Mr. Harris, and produced the following extracts from the statutes:

"No admission fee shall be charged, directly or indirectly, and no business shall be conducted, and no collection shall be made at such games."

"Again, 'It shall be lawful to take part in or witness any athletic outdoor sports or games, and no admission fee or ticket or other fee shall be charged, directly or indirectly, and no business shall be conducted, and no collection shall be made at such games, and no remuneration or consideration directly or indirectly in connection therewith, on any day between the hours of two and six.'"

Supl. Korman of the park department was instructed by the members of the commission, in a regular session last night, to devise ways and means of making the park more attractive to the park and other sport devices to be used this coming winter. With the success attained with the impromptu skating rink, the commission felt that at a regular chute will meet with a unanimous favor. A snow tractor, to remove snow in the walks of the park, and a snow machine, as was discussed at the meeting and the superintendent instructed to report on it, were also the means suggested. NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—While unusual pitching performances have been frequent in world's series baseball, the annual struggle for the championship never has known a no-hit game.

The nearest to a perfect performance was pitched by Ed Reulbach of the Chicago Cubs, against the Chicago White Sox in the series of 1906. Reulbach was found for only one safety in that game, the famed "Jiggs" Donohue blurring the record with a clean single. Reulbach walked six men, however, and fanned three.

Ed. Walsh, pitching for the White Sox against the Cubs in the same series that brought one-hit fame to Reulbach, allowed but two safe swats and won his game, 3 to 0. Still another great pitching feat was ac-completed in that series when Stephen Decal Brown, of the Cubs, held the Sox to two blows the day after Walsh's fine game. Brown won his game 1 to 0.

In 1913, Ed Plank of Connie Mack's great Athletics, held the Giants to two bingles and won, 3 to 1. In 1914, Bill James of the "Miracle" team of Boston Braves, held the Athletics to

LOWELL FASHION SHOW

Big Event Planned for Oct.
15 at Keith's—Only Local
Models

Widespread interest has been aroused by the announcement that young women from Lowell and vicinity would be given the preference as models for the big full style pageant which will be the feature offering at Keith's theatre during the entire week of Oct. 15. This will be the first time that local young women have been given the opportunity to be featured in a production of this magnitude at a local playhouse, and it appears certain that many young women from Lowell and vicinity will be desirous of getting the valuable training that this pageant offers to any number of wearing the newest styles in an abundance of different types of garments for all occasions.

Another point of interest connected with this revue is the fact that nothing but local merchandise will be shown. All the attire for both women and men will be from local shops and the same condition applies to the dress necessities. Being an all-Lowell production gives an added interest to the affair that does not usually attach to productions of this kind.

Miss Florence M. Fredericks who will direct and stage the revue, is now in New York supervising the completion of the special scenery that will be used for the pageant. There will also be special lighting effects and stage settings, making this the most elaborate and complete as well as most effective style revue ever seen here and one of the most pretentious ever staged in New England.

There will be three different scenes and each one will tell a story without spoken word. The models will be trained to act out these scenes and it is said that the action is such that it makes the presentation intensely interesting throughout.

In addition to several young women, Miss Fredericks can also use some young men and several women of a matronly type. The aim is to show all types of garments for all ages and all occasions so that the range of models will be unusually large. All young women who would like to be considered, as well as the other types that have been mentioned, are invited to give their names to the manager of Keith's theatre or leave their names and addresses at the box office. Selections for the cast will be made by Miss Fredericks within a short time.

The Pride of Every Woman

HAVEN'T you often wished that the kiddies' clothes and the table-cloths, curtains, and other wash fabrics wouldn't soil so easily?

Your wish can be realized! Starch with Linit—the remarkable new starch.

New Starch Discovery

LINIT is a scientific starch discovery—distinctly different from old-fashioned starches. It was originally made for the makers of fine fabrics who had to secure the finest possible finish.

Now, for the first time, it is offered to the housewife. With Linit you can get the same wonderful finish you have always admired in goods that come direct from the store.

Linit gives a soft, cool, pliable finish to your garments. And you will find your Linit-starched clothes and fabrics remain clean and fresh much longer. Also, Linit makes even ordinary cotton goods look and feel like expensive linen.

Important to You

LINIT makes a THIN "MILKY" MIXTURE, free-running like water, which is quickly absorbed by the fabric, thus saving the time and labor of "smearing on", which was customary with old-fashioned starches. The Linit mixture does not present the stiff, jelly-like appearance of ordinary starch. This is why you will find it much easier to iron with Linit.

Your grocer now

BREAD AND MEAT AS FOOD

Both children and adults eat too much meat. Meat's food value is well established but although it contains more fat than bread, carbohydrates and minerals are practically lacking from it.

Bread has been termed the staff of life, and in many countries where meat is not obtainable or used as food, bread or its equivalent in the starch and sugar group (carbohydrates) is just that. In such countries the fats are furnished chiefly by oils.

The relative value of these two foods as builders of energy, strength and blood, or working power, is of great importance to all workers as well as laymen in all classes.

White bread is one of our chief foods in America. As it comes from the miller, with some of its nutritive value taken out by milling, its composition in each 100 parts is 1.1 parts mineral matter, 1.3 parts fat, 9.2 parts of protein, 34.3 parts of water, 53.1 parts of carbohydrates.

Bread has a fuel value of 1215 calories per pound.

Ordinary round steak contains about 5.4 parts of inedible material, 1.2 parts of mineral matter, no carbohydrates, 9.3 parts of fat, 18.5 parts of protein, 62.5 parts of water, and has a fuel value of 745 calories per pound.

The quantity of protein in meat (nitrogenous and albuminous parts of food) is nearly twice as great as that of bread. This is the building material of the body. However, a half pound of bread will furnish enough protein for the necessary requirements of the hard-working man for a day.

Careful experiments have determined that the protein of bread, milk, potatoes or meat have practically the same food value.

Thus, taking all food elements into consideration, bread is more valuable as a builder than meat. It contains more lime and mineral elements that are strong in bone building, a most important nutritive essential. A person, either child or adult, may be well sustained on bread without meat, but not on meat without bread or its equivalent food in the starch group.

Some meat once a day is essential but undoubtedly most people eat too much.

In youth meat is more essential than in middle age. Old age requires little or none, a vegetable diet being fully sustaining.

Controller Daves referred to these facilities as "tellers' windows" and intimated that no other functions, such as making loans or purchasing securities, should be carried on at these windows.

DEATH OF BOY REMAINS A MYSTERY

PEARODY, Oct. 3.—Just how Michael Mastinuck, four-year-old son of Major Mastinuck, of 2 Mount Vernon street, came to his death on Walnut street yesterday morning, remains a mystery. The child was found beside the street in a dying condition. An autopsy performed by Medical Examiner H. K. Foster revealed internal injuries, but only two slight external abrasions.

A seven-year-old Greek girl, Mary Manuvelis, told the police that a truck turning into a coal yard, nearby, struck the boy. Manager Storey, of the coal yard declares that no truck came into the yard.

The police are inclined to the belief that the child was struck by some form of motor vehicle and are pursuing investigations along these lines.

CHICKENS TO LAY TWO EGGS A DAY

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 2.—Experiments conducted at the West Virginia agricultural station here have led poultry experts to believe that it may be possible to breed chickens which will lay two eggs a day. H. G. Knight, the director, announced today.

Ben No. 345 has two generative organs, according to the director. He reared hawks, he said, that for three or four days she lays eggs long and narrow, and then for a few days the eggs are a natural shape. If hens can be bred with two generative organs, according to the experts, it would be possible to have such a chicken lay two eggs a day.

R. R. CONSOLIDATION Interstate Commerce Commission Resumes Hearings in Boston

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—The interstate commerce commission resumed today the hearings begun here last week on the question of consolidation of New England railroads. Commissioners Henry C. Hall of Colorado, Frederick I. Cox of New Jersey and Joseph R. Eastman of Massachusetts were present with Examiner Thomas E. Healey and Prof. William Z. Ripley of Harvard university, who is attached to the commission as a railroad expert.

C. L. Andrews, general counsel of the New York, Ontario & Western, told the commission that his road was opposed to the suggestion that any part of it be included in any consolidation.

Charles A. Andrews, representing the executive committee of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, summarized his statement made at Saturday's session in which he opposed a New England railroad system, and said consolidation with trunk lines was preferable.

Mr. Andrews said the members of his body believed that by consolidation into large systems, high operating costs might be spread, and diffused so that no one road would be compelled to bear the brunt of such costs. The Andrews plan would consolidate all roads in the so-called "Eastern division," recognized by the interstate commerce commission as a rate-making division. This lies east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers.

"We don't fear the loss of gateways. If the trunk lines own the New England roads," Mr. Andrews said, "nor do we fear that a trunk line would monopolize traffic to the exclusion of competitors."

"As we heard from Mr. Willard (Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio), 'reasonable people don't do business that way.' The railroads would not start out irritating each other and irritating the new lines which run to the points whence our raw materials come and where we want our products to go. New England, more than any other section of the United States, is dependent on the rest of the country for what she gets and what she gives."

Mr. Andrews further pointed out that the port of Boston would be aided in its development if served by more than one line reaching beyond the Hudson, the Boston & Albany being at present its sole trunk line connection.

"A New England system would be financially weak," Mr. Andrews said later in his testimony, "and would thus defeat in part the great purpose of the transportation act. The New England

TWO CITY EMPLOYEES KILLED AND FIVE INJURED BY EXPLOSION OF DYNAMITE IN EAST LYNN

LYNN, Oct. 3.—Two city employees were killed and five others were injured by an explosion of dynamite at the city stone crusher in East Lynn today. The dead are Richard J. Barry, a foreman, and William J. McRay. The injured are Joseph F. Day, William Martin, Thomas Nicholson, James W. Noonan and Frank Flewelling. The accident occurred shortly after noon when Barry and McRay attempted to discover why a charge, set in the morning, had failed to explode. The five other men, who were eating their lunches nearby, heard a sudden detonation and saw the men hurled 150 feet in the air. None of the watchers was reported to have been hurt seriously, although all were struck by flying pieces of rock.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 21

"Can I have one of these rubies?" asked Jack. "I'm sorry," replied Ruby Lips, "but if any of these jewels are taken out of the chest by anyone except Mother Earth, they will turn to glass." So Jack, not wishing to spoil the rubies, walked along to the next chest in line.

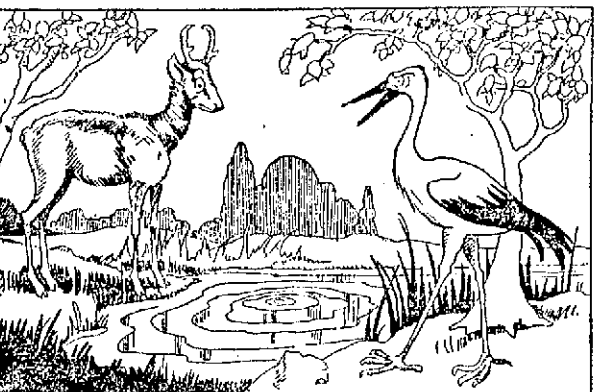

As they looked at the chests, 12 in all, Ruby Lips explained that each one was for a month. "This one contains garnets," said she, "and they are for January." And thus Jack found that the chests were for February, bloodstones for March and diamonds for April.

"May is my month," said Jack. "What's my stone?" "May is emerald and means happiness," said Ruby Lips. Then she went on with pearl for June, ruby for July, sardonyx for August, sapphire for September, opal for October, topaz for November and turquoise for December. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

"NOW LOOK WHAT YOU'VE GONE AND DONE!" SHRIEKED MISTER CRANE.

Nancy and Nick and Mister Gallop, the little cowboy fairy, followed long-legged Mister Crane, and Mister Crane was following Andy Antelope as fast as his wings could carry him.

Mister Crane was following Andy Antelope because Andy had promised to show him where Taddy Frog was staying.

The little antelope fellow wanted to be a friend of everybody's, and he was anxious to do the big bird a favor. He never once thought that the little frog would come to harm.

"Taddy Frog, where are you?" the twins heard him call out when he reached the edge of the puddle-pond. "Oh, Cousin Taddy Frog, Mister Crane wants to speak to you. He's coming now."

The next thing the twins heard was a flop and a splash, and by the time they reached the middle of the pond, there was nothing to be seen of Taddy Frog but a few rings of muddy water swelling bigger and bigger and slowly melting into nothing.

"Now, look what you've gone and done!" shrieked Mister Crane, arriving just then, and folding up his wings and unfolding his legs to stand on. "Why did you tell him that I wanted him? Didn't I tell you that you talked too much?"

"I'm ever so sorry," whimpered Andy, "but I thought he'd wait. He hasn't very good manners, disappearing just when he knows company's coming."

Nancy felt so sorry for the little antelope that she spoke right up. "You did exactly right," she said, petting his glossy head. "Mister Crane wanted to see Taddy, so he did, and you've saved his life."

Mister Crane said nothing, but looked very sulky.

"Do folks eat other folks?" Andy asked in surprise.

"I'm sorry to say they do," said Mister Crane. "Even little antelope boys. Sniffer Ky-sky is very fond of antelope, and Mister Fox and Granddaddy Golden Eagle also. You must go right back to your mother until you know the world better and can take care of yourself. Run along now, up to the mountains as fast as you can go. But listen! If anyone ever gets after you, come right to me."

Without a goodbye, away ran Andy, and he never stopped until he got home.

Mister Gallop and Nancy and Nick found their ponies and rode back to the cave.

And there lay a telegram addressed to the twins.

"Dear twins," it said. "Come back at once. (To Be Continued.)"

GIRL OF 22 ARRESTED IN $25,000 THEFT

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—Charged with the theft of $25,000 during the month of September, and alleged to be responsible for the disappearance of more than $25,000 in a period extending over two years, Rose Fritz, 22, of 215 Walnut avenue, Roxbury, bookkeeper and trusted employee of William Solomon, a silk merchant at 135 Chalmers street, was arrested by Inspectors Dorsey and Augusta last night.

At the end of a two-hour conversation with the girl, during which she maintained an attitude of complete indifference and coolness, the police admitted themselves mystified by the case and were unable to advance any theory as to how the girl could have spent the money she is alleged to have stolen. The arrest of the young girl, who was dressed tastefully but not extravagantly in a costume of brown, resulted from a discrepancy in a check which Solomon signed on Sept. 1 for payroll purposes. The check was supposed to be for $132. When he received his bank statement from the Boylston National bank last Monday, he noticed the check had been raised from $132 to $332. He demanded an explanation from Miss Fritz. It was not forthcoming and she went out to lunch. She did not reappear and was arrested last night in Dorchester.

Further investigation by Solomon is said to have revealed that during September, the girl had forged his name to checks amounting to $1300. There were five instances of this forgery, he alleges.

Immediately after the accident, the license was suspended, pending Mr. Goodwin's inquiry. Now that it is completed, the registrar has entered a finding that the accident happened without serious fault on the part of Bosca, and consequently his license is returned to him.

Rep. Corbett to Frame Bill

Continued

He has seen the school buildings in different parts of the state at a moderate expense, and he believes that the educational interests of the city would be served by the appointment of a building commission under an act of the legislature to include the superintendent of schools, a representative of the state board of education and such other members as the city council and school board might select.

He intends to draft a bill along these lines to be submitted early in the new year as he believes it offers the most practical method of securing at a reasonable expense a new Edison school, adequate to meet the educational needs of the district. "Under such a commission," said Mr. Corbett, "we might expect to get the work quickly done or at least to avoid the aggravating delays that attended the construction of the new high school."

executive soon after midnight and immediately received the German editors to whom he reviewed the events leading up to the retirement of his ministry.

It is noteworthy that although the cabinet members among themselves were in full accord in all issues, this concordance of opinion was lacking in the individual parties whom the ministers represented.

"The views of the people at large," said the chancellor to the editors, "no longer coincide with those of the parties and if it were not for the prevailing conditions of unrest the next solution of the whole problem would be new elections."

The chancellor proposed that he have a smaller cabinet, as he is no longer obliged to consider the partisan wishes of each party, as was the case in the retiring ministry. This statement in contrast with Herr Stresemann's wish to construct a cabinet that will represent a closely coordinated ministry supplied with extraordinary power.

Although the coalition government by its very nature has found it impossible to effect reforms acceptable to all four parties represented, the belief is prevalent that the ministry might have been held together had Premier Poincare been responsive to the termination of passive resistance in such a manner as to view the outcome with satisfaction, in that it brought an end to the traditional system of compromise and political bartering with which a dozen or more previous crises have been patched up.

Up to noon today, Chancellor Stresemann had not made the slightest revelation of the plans he has in mind for carrying on.

SALOONS DEFY GOV. PINCHOT

Executive Personally Observed Open Defiance of His Orders to Close

Threat to Invoke "Padlock" Section of Prohibition Law Ignored by Saloon Men

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—Governor Pinchot today personally observed the open defiance by Philadelphia saloons of his orders to cease business under threat of being dealt with according to the "padlock" section of the prohibition law.

On Tuesday, the governor and the federal department of justice issued a joint order notifying the 1300 or more saloons and cafes in this city to close and dismantle their places within 48 hours. A large force of government agents and state police started at once to serve the notices on the proprietors. They completed their work late last night.

Shortly thereafter, Governor Pinchot made the rounds to see for himself whether the order was being obeyed. Strolling leisurely into the saloons and cafes, the governor merely looked around, observed the crowds and as he leisurely strolled out. He made no comment.

Apparently, but few of the saloon men have heeded the closing order. He declared that they had been advised by Francis J. Manely, chief counsel for the Retail Dealers' Protective association to continue business as usual.

Fred G. Thompson "Man-
Woman" Showered With
Congratulations in Court

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Acquitted of having, as a smiling girl bandit, shot and killed Richard C. Tessler, wealthy insurance broker in a holdup last summer, Fred G. Thompson last night assumed the feminine habit that for 11 years permitted him to go unchallenged as a woman and 11 years ago to marry Frank Carrick.

Feminine throughout the trial in his actions, gestures and remarks, despite the rough male garb of the jail prisoner, Thompson, woman-like shrunk towards his attorney as the jury foreman pronounced the words of acquittal.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Curtis McEwan, who is alleged to have cut off a dog's ear with a pair of scissors, was arraigned in district court this morning on a charge of mutilating an animal. He pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until Oct. 5, bonds being set at $200.

The complainant in the case was Agent Richardson of the Humane society. McEwan claimed that he cut the animal's ear unintentionally, saying that the dog had taken a "fit" and he was endeavoring to help him.

Rochette Mustafa was fined $5 for driving an automobile without a license. He was arrested near the depot by Officer Francis O'Loughlin, who stated that defendant failed to stop on signal.

A drunkenness charge against Geo. Fournier of Peterboro, N. H., was filed with the understanding that defendant leave town. He was found lying in a parked truck in Cheever street last night.

GOOD ATTRACTIONS AT CHALIFOUX STYLE SHOW WANTS COMMISSION AS LIEUT. COLONEL

Judging from the interest evinced in all quarters yesterday and today, the annual fall opening of the Chalifoux style show tonight should be exceptionally well attended. The "style show" is the talk of all Lowell femininity.

The other features of the show, including the special showing of the furniture division, are attractive to many.

Gardner W. Pearson, assistant district attorney of Middlesex county and a former brigadier general of the Massachusetts National Guard, has made application at the local office of the Organized Reserve for a commission as lieutenant colonel in the adjutant general's department.

General Pearson is a resident of this city and has practiced law for over 22 years. His application was immediately approved by Major F. J. Toohay, executive officer of the local reserve office, and forwarded to Boston for action.

General Pearson's military experience covers over 19 years' service with the national guard and is as follows: Second Lieutenant in the Sixth Massachusetts in Porto Rico from 1898 to 1899; first lieutenant in the same unit from 1899 to 1905, captain of the same outfit from 1905 to 1911; brigadier general from 1911 to 1917.

"The meeting will last only one hour—spare that much time and give us your frank, honest ideas regarding the Reserve. Your attendance will help put this movement across throughout the country and influence the people throughout the country. Constructive criticism is invited."

MAJOR FRANCIS J. TOOHEY

officer of the reserve for this district.

BUSINESS INCREASING TO HOLD MASS MEETING

Postmaster Delisle Well
Satisfied With Report From
Centralville Postoffice

The report of the first month's business at the Centralville postal station has been received by Postmaster Xavier A. Delisle and he stated today that the report is very satisfactory. As an example of the increased activities at the new station he cited the fact that during the first 10 days of its existence 43 sacks of mail were collected there for distribution in other sections of the city and out of town. During the last ten days of the month 76 sacks were collected at the station. The stamp sale during the last ten days of the month was three times the sale during the first ten days and during the whole month of September over 600 money orders were made at that station.

These figures, according to the postmaster, show that the station is becoming better patronized every day and a gradual increase of business is expected to continue for several months. The number of clerks at the station and the salary of the superintendent depend altogether upon the amount of business done by the station and it is up to the people of Centralville to patronize their own station if they desire it to be continued.

During the past two weeks members of the supervisory force from the main postoffice have inspected every route in Centralville and it is expected that a re-routing of all routes in that section of the city will become effective within a few days. The inspectors who investigated the Centralville routes were Assistant Superintendent of Mails Albert Willis and Foreman of Carriers George L. Hunt.

The re-routing of carrier's routes has been made possible owing to the fact that the men have less territory to cover since the location of the Centralville office and, under the new routes, several of the carriers will have new territory added to their routes and the work laid out so that each carrier will have approximately the same distance to cover in the delivery of mail.

General Pearson's military experience covers over 19 years' service with the national guard and is as follows: Second Lieutenant in the Sixth Massachusetts in Porto Rico from 1898 to 1899; first lieutenant in the same unit from 1899 to 1905, captain of the same outfit from 1905 to 1911; brigadier general from 1911 to 1917.

REP. CORBETT WILL FRAME BILL FOR COMMISSION TO BUILD NEW EDSON SCHOOL

Would Have Superintendent of Schools and Representative of State Board of Education on Commission With Such Other Members as City Council and School Board Might Select

Rep. Thomas J. Corbett intends to introduce in the legislature early in the year a bill providing for a commission to build a new Edson school. Mr. Corbett has given the question considerable study. He does not believe that the legislature will favor any large loan outside the debt limit for the erection of such a school as has been proposed.

He realizes that a new school building is needed there and without delay; but he does not believe that a 35 room building should be built there for junior high school purposes. The extension of the junior high school system to the entire city will be very costly. If it calls for several new buildings to accommodate the different outlying districts of the city. Between that plan and a junior high school building in a central location, the citizens will have to decide in the near future. Indeed this question might well be settled before any additional steps are taken to build even a new Edson school or purchase expensive land for a site.

Rep. Corbett believes that a building of moderate size, but of course considerably larger than the old structure should serve the Edson district.

JUDGE QUA WILL CHARGE JURY IN CONTESTED WILL CASE TOMORROW MORNING

Submission of evidence in the hearing on the contested will of the late John Norton was concluded in superior court here this morning before Judge Quia and jury, and Attorney Albert S. Howard, of counsel for the contestants, then consumed one hour in his argument to the jury. When court convened for the afternoon session Attorney James J. Kervin, of counsel for the will, began his argument to the jury, to be followed by the judge's charge to the jury.

Atty. Kervin concluded his argument this afternoon and at 2 o'clock Judge Quia declared court adjourned and will charge the jury tomorrow morning.

The contestants to the will are niece and nephews of the testator, John, Edward, Catherine and Mary Mulry, who claim that their uncle was not of sound mind and that he was unduly influenced in making his will. According to the terms of the will the estate was left to Mrs. Bridget Slaven, a sister-in-law of the testator.

Slaven, a sister-in-law of the testator, to Mrs. Slaven's daughter, Mrs. Michael J. Donohue, and to John Kelley, a brother of Mrs. Slaven.

Dennis O'Donoghue was called to the stand at the opening of court this morning. He said that Mr. Norton told him the Mulrys met him on Broadway and refused to speak to him.

Under cross-examination the witness said he was a relative of Michael J. Donohue, executor of the will. Mrs. Anne O'Donoghue, an old family friend of the Nortons, told of visiting frequently at the Norton home. When she visited him at the Slaven's house, Mr. Norton told her he was happy there.

Witness said that when she visited Mr. Norton after his wife died she always would bring him candy and ice cream and Mr. Norton would say "that was more than the Mulrys did for him." He also said that none of the Mulrys ever came to see him.

Whenever she called at the house, after Mr. Norton suffered a shock, Slaven was there doing the housework.

Mrs. Bridget Slaven, a sister-in-law of the late Mr. Norton, was the next witness. She took care of Mr. Norton for several months prior to her death. She did the cooking, cleaned the house, did the washing, etc. For five years previous to her death Mrs. Norton never left the house, and she cared for her at that time, sometimes staying for two weeks at a time. Mrs. Slaven said her daughter, Mrs. Donohue, also helped.

After Mrs. Norton's death Mrs. Slaven said she remained at the Norton house for six months taking care of Mr. Norton, and then Mr. Norton was removed to the Slaven home and she cared for him there until the time of his death.

On the morning of Mrs. Norton's death, Sullivan suggested to Mr. Norton, that he make a will, that Ed Mulry was making trouble, Mrs. Slaven said. After the will was drawn, Mr. Norton told her that he had left.

DRIVE ON RATS TO STAY TOMORROW

H. T. Pitts, seamy-styled champion rodent exterminator of the world, will tomorrow start his campaign against rats in several Lowell factories and mercantile establishments.

Assistants, the residential section, expect hundreds of rodent casualties as a result of tomorrow's activities.

As the poison which the rats are given requires six or seven days before taking full effect there is a hope of the rodents dying indoors, where they are abundant, and observation has shown that the poisoned rodent seeks the pen or burrows in a home in the earth before dying.

Barrage Laid Down in Attempt to Dislodge Convicts Barricaded in Penitentiary

MINERS TRAPPED 9 DAYS RESCUED

Five of the 41 Miners Buried Alive for Nine Days Rescued at Falkirk

Remarkable Escape Has Raised Hopes of Relatives of the Others Imprisoned

FALKIRK, Scotland, Oct. 4.—(By the Associated Press) Buried alive for nine days, five of the 41 miners entombed by an explosion in a coal pit near here on Sept. 25, were rescued today. The men were brought to the surface in fairly good condition, and their remarkable escape has raised the hopes of the relatives of the others imprisoned. The searchers today were redoubting their efforts.

The first thing the rescued men asked for was cigarettes. They said they existed on water after the first day, when the supply of bread gave out. The pit they were in was flooded by the explosion, but they succeeded in crawling to a ledge away from the water and finally struck a passage where they got a current of air. There they stopped, except for occasional trips for water until they were rescued.

ROBBER KILLED IN GUN BATTLE

French Police Shoot Down Man Wanted in Connection With New York Robbery

Located Near Paris After Most Extensive Search in Annals of French Police

PARIS, Oct. 4 (By the Associated Press).—After one of the most extensive and stubborn searches in the annals of the French police, Gabriel Alphonse Mourey, alias Henri Boilat, mastermind in the sensational Shattuck jewel robbery in New York, in April, 1922, was finally located at Chelles, 12 miles from Paris, this morning, and shot down while resisting arrest.

Establishing the fact that Mourey was staying in the little Seine-et-Marne town, the police last night drew a cordon around his villa and at daybreak made a concerted rush upon the house. Mourey met their charge with a fusillade of shots from two automatic pistols, forcing the forces to retreat and take to cover behind nearby trees. A bullet sent through a window as he was resuming fire after reloading his weapon brought the fugitive down.

LARGENY OF SEAPLANE NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Arthur England of Bay Shore, an aviator, and Randolph Beck, also of Bay Shore, were held in $3000 bail each today, in Jamaica court on a charge of stealing a seaplane, owned by John J. Walsh, of Brooklyn, and moored in Jamaica Bay.

The police charged their prisoners flew the machine to Long Beach and had intended flying to Miami, Fla. They were arrested in Long Beach last night.

HANGS HIMSELF IN CELL WETHERSFIELD, Conn., Oct. 4.—Charles Anderson, alias Henry Mann, alias Charles Davis, under sentence of from four to 30 years for Feb. 5, 1915, for burglary, hanged himself with a rope in his cell at the state prison today. Attendants did not know how he obtained the rope. When arrested in New Haven and his record traced, it was found that he had spent 29 years of his 33 in this country in reformatory or penal institutions.

BODY FOUND IN RIVER

James E. Livesey, 40 Years Old, Disappeared From His Home Last Night

The mystery which surrounded the disappearance last night of James E. Livesey, 40, of 60 Bowden street, and the subsequent discovery this morning of the missing man's hat and coat by Police Officer William Nelson on an embankment of the Concord river under the six-arch bridge, was cleared up about 1.30 o'clock this afternoon with the recovery of the body in 12 feet of water under the bridge by Officer William Murphy, Edward Carney and James Miller. The river had been dragged all morning and early this afternoon by employees of Under-fer William H. Saunders and members of the police department.

Despondency over ill-health is the death theory entertained by members of the dead man's family.

For six months he had fallen considerably, and was very much discouraged at times, according to his sister, Mrs. Catherine Fligg, with whom he made his home. For the past four years he had been a chauffeur in the employ of Miss Elizabeth Mitchell of the Bon Marché Co. He retired about 10.30 o'clock last night, but his sister believes he left his bed when the rest of the household was asleep. The Concord river and the six-arch bridge are near to the Bowden street residence.

Mr. Livesey was born in England but came to this country when a young boy. He has lived in this city practically all his life and counted a host of friends. He was a prominent member of the A.O.U.W.

The body was removed to the undertaker's parlors of William H. Saunders.

STOPS FUNERAL AND SHOTS HIMSELF LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—John H. Pleasants walked into the chapel of an undertaking establishment while a funeral service was being conducted, stopped at the altar and asked: "Is this a funeral?"

"Yes," someone replied. Pleasants then drew a pistol and shot himself in the head. He died an hour later.

CONDITION UNCHANGED The condition of Mrs. Frank Ogdan of Farmington, Me., who was struck by an automobile on Andover street Tuesday evening, was reported today at St. John's hospital as being about the same as yesterday. She has only partially recovered consciousness but, although her condition is considered serious, her name is not on the danger list.

MACHINE GUNS FIRE 1600 ROUNDS

Three Desperadoes Reported to Have Fired 12 Shots in Return

Murderers Who Killed One Guard and Fatally Wounded Two Others Still at Bay

EDDYVILLE, Ky., Oct. 4.—(By the Associated Press) A barrage directed against the state penitentiary dipping hall where three convicts have barricaded themselves since attempting to escape yesterday, was laid down by 25 national guardsmen and 35 prison guards today.

A machine gun on the third floor of the administration building and one of the chapel, a short distance from the fugitives' fort, swept the improvised fortress until a fusillade of 1600 rounds was exhausted. The three desperadoes were reported to have fired 12 shots in return.

Guardmen with rifles and guards with shotguns were also stationed at vantage points. At a signal from Captain Allen Radford, commander of the troops the barrage began. Under its cover three soldiers advanced behind hastily constructed iron shields and attempted to fill the place with gas. Some of it was released on the lower floor, but it flared back, apparently due to a gust of wind, and almost overcame the leader, who was forced to flee and abandon the attempt. The machine, rifle and shotgun fire continued steadily for 20 minutes; at the expiration of that period, firing ceased and an order was transmitted to the convicts to surrender. There was no reply.

Third Death PADUCAH, Ky., Oct. 4.—The hand of death fell for the third time as a result of the convict uprising at the western Kentucky state penitentiary at Eddyville, yesterday, when Guard William M. Gilbert, 43 of Breckenridge county, died at a hospital here at noon today.

EDDYVILLE, Ky., Oct. 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Hounded in by the grim, stone walls of the prison area of the western Kentucky state penitentiary, three convict murderers, who yesterday killed one guard and wounded three others, are probably fatally injured in an attempt to shoot their way to freedom, were barricaded in a two-story brick dining building, the central structure of the prison plant. The convicts apparently were conserving

Dennis E. Conners, president and treasurer of Connors Brothers, will tomorrow be heard in supreme court by Judge Crosby on the new application for continuance of the present injunction which prevents the city from an execution order and instructed deputy sheriffs to levy the money from the city. Deputy Sheriffs Gately and Laroche visited city hall last Thursday armed with the execution order. The treasurer's safe, with about $45,000 in cash therein, was found to be securely locked. CIVILIAN DICTATOR SUPPORTED BY MARTIAL LAW MAY BE SET UP IN GERMANY

Move Discussed Following Retirement of Chancellor Stresemann's Coalition Cabinet—Dr. Stresemann Himself Spoken of as Well Fitted to Take Over Such Office

BERLIN, Oct. 4 (By the Associated Press).—With the retirement of Chancellor Stresemann's coalition cabinet there is talk of the establishment of a civilian dictator supported by martial law. Dr. Stresemann, himself, is spoken of in some quarters as well fitted to take over such an office, in view of his experience in economics and finance. Meanwhile, he has been invited by President Ebert to form a new ministry. The resignation of the cabinet came last night after the four socialist members had withdrawn following their rejection of a compromise proposed by the chancellor on the 8-hour law. The bourgeois members of the government, after deliberating for half an hour, voted to retire in a body and authorized Dr. Stresemann to apprise President Ebert of their decision. The chancellor returned from a visit to the

TO MODIFY THE VOLSTEAD ACT

New York State Chamber of Commerce Sends Resolution to Congress

Urges Revision and Modification "So as to Conform With Public Sentiment"

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The chamber of commerce of New York state today adopted a resolution recommending to congress that the Volstead act should be revised and modified "so as to conform more nearly with public sentiment and on lines that are more reasonable, just and practicable."

The resolution stated that the interpretation and enforcement of the 18th amendment through the Volstead act "are not in the belief of an unquestionably large number of honored and fair-minded people in accordance with a strict interpretation of the 18th amendment." The result, it was stated, was great opposition to enforcement of the act.

PRICE OF COAL TO BE INCREASED HERE

In order, they say, to conform with the new price list at the mines, the coal dealers of this city will increase the price of coal tomorrow. This matter was decided at a meeting of the Lowell Coal Dealers' association, which was held last evening.

Prices on the egg, stove, nut and Franklin coal will be advanced 75 cents a ton, while the price of pea coal will take a jump of 50 cents a ton. The so-called Jeddio coal will also advance 75 cents a ton.

The increase in prices, it is stated, is due to the wage increase recently granted the mine employees. The dealers wish to announce, however, that the system of 50 cents a ton off for cash will continue in effect. The cash prices on coal beginning tomorrow and until further notice will be as follows: Egg, stove and nut, $17.75 net; pea coal, $15 net; buckwheat, $12.50 net; Franklin, $19.75 net; Jeddio, $19 net and stove $18.50 net.

MONEY NEEDED TO COMPLETE PICTURE

Alumni of the high school, particularly those who attended the school during the stewardship of the late Cyrus W. Irish, have an opportunity to subscribe the very small sum of $18 to completely pay for the oil portrait of the former headmaster, the gift to the school of the Alumni association. The portrait was presented to the school last June and at the present time is being retouched by Mrs. Mary Earl Wood, who painted it. To date Mr. Harris has received in contributions $752.18, whereas the total cost of the portrait, including frame, is $770.

The additional $18 needed eventually will be secured, but it would be much better if it could be subscribed at once and the picture hung this fall. A subscription in any amount will be gladly received and acknowledged by Mr. Harris.

PRIZE COMPETITION WAS BIG SUCCESS

Many readers of The Sun will be interested in the response received by the recent prize competition which the Fleischmann company conducted and in which this paper played a part.

Such an overwhelming response was received that it took six judges, working night and day, one solid month to read all the replies. Nearly three million words had to be waded through before final decisions were made. The replies having to be translated from foreign languages before they could be judged.

The contest called for reports from those who have taken the Yeast treatment, on "What Fleischmann's Yeast has done for me." Contestants had also to sign a statement testifying to the accuracy of their experiences, and were required to do this in the presence of a witness.

In all, $5000 was offered in prizes. The winner of the first prize, Mrs. Lillian Ramsay of Evanston, Illinois, is to be paid one thousand dollars.

There were 162 other prize winners. They are to receive altogether the remaining four thousand dollars for their essays which, according to the judges, very closely rival Mrs. Ramsay's in interest.

LOWELL MOOSE HOLD LADIES' NIGHT

The opening wedge of a drive for new members was started by the Lowell lodge 618, L.O.M., in conjunction with the 12th annual ladies' night at Associate hall last night. Commencing at 8 o'clock, Miner-Doyle's orchestra gave a pleasing half-hour program of popular music. At the conclusion of the concert dancing was enjoyed until midnight by members and their guests, about 1500 of whom were present.

The affair was in charge of Elmer G. Willey, general manager; John L. Sullivan, assistant general manager; Hector N. Jodoin, floor director; Edmund J. Gagnon, assistant floor director; Joseph A. Gagnon and Harry S. Norris, chief aids; John M. Moran, treasurer and Thomas M. Keenan, secretary.

The Moose aim at a mark of 500 new members, and applications have been received from 100 already. The new class will be in charge of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis at the initiation Sunday, Nov. 18, and will be worked by a degree team from out-of-town. Special rates have been made for the duration of 1923 as an extra inducement to attract new members.

Rheumatic

Agony

NOW EASILY ENDED

It does not matter to me whether you are disabled with curved rheumatism or have only occasional twinges. I know that Allenru, my own discovery, will stop the agony, drive away the gnawing pains and reduce the swollen joints, says Mr. Allen.

I know it will dissolve the uric acid deposits that have become deeply and headily in joints and muscles and quickly drive every trace of rheumatism from your body. I know this because I was crippled for years and many times was unable to work, and Allenru made a well, robust, healthy man of me.

I know because since I cured myself hundreds have taken Allenru and speedily rid themselves of this agonizing disease.

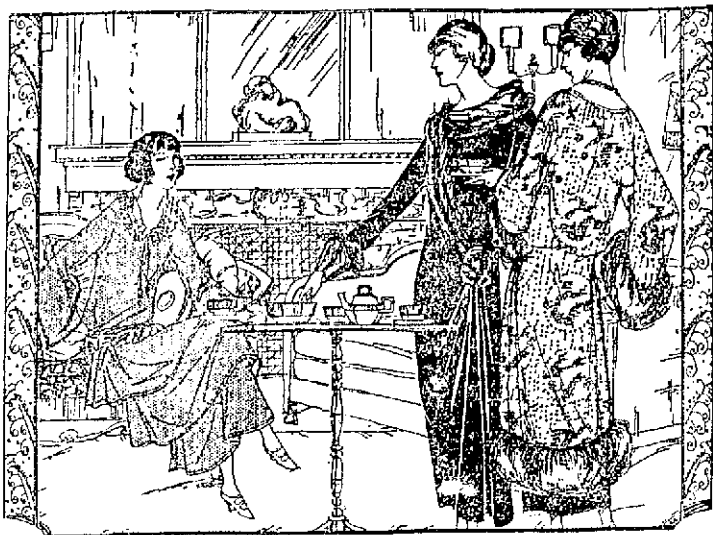

No matter how severe your case, I urge you to put your faith in the prescription that took me years to perfect—a prescription that made a new man of me after doctors tried and failed.

Allenru is no lagged; it starts right in at once; it gets into the blood, searches out the poisonous uric acid deposit and two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that cause rheumatism, out of the blood through the natural channels.

Through the columns of this newspaper I authorize every druggist to guarantee one full pint bottle in every instance.—ADV.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are cured by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, laryngeal asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain water. Add a pinch of sugar and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "24 o'clock" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

cross-examined Mrs. Slaven at length regarding her testimony in reference to Dr. Sullivan. But she insisted that it was Dr. Sullivan who told Mr. Norton he had better make a will as Ed. Mulry was trying to make trouble for him. She said that she never expected to get any pay for the work she did at the Norton house, but went there because of her sister, Mrs. Norton.

Atty. Kerwin, counsel for the will, rested at this point, and the court and counsel retired to the judge's lobby. When they returned Atty. Howard began his argument to the jury at 11:45 o'clock, and he concluded at 12:45 o'clock, at which time the noon recess was taken.

At the afternoon session yesterday Mr. M. H. Larrabee was recalled to the stand and resumed his testimony in reference to an examination of Mr. Norton in May of 1921, about a month after the will was made. In his opinion Dr. Larrabee said that Mr. Norton was mentally capable of transacting business affairs and disposing of his property by will.

Dr. Larrabee also testified to testing Mr. Norton with a general line of questions, nearly all of which Mr. Norton answered correctly. He asked Mr. Norton if he read the newspapers and the latter replied that he didn't because his eyesight was not good.

Mr. Norton also told Dr. Larrabee

Jones Wins "On-to-St. Louis Race"

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—(By the Associated Press) C. S. Jones of Garden City, N. Y., today was announced winner of the "On-to-St. Louis race" with a total of 216 points. He flew 900 miles to St. Louis. H. F. Cole, Pembina, N. D., was second; W. W. Meyer of Chicago, third, and Lawrence B. Sperry, Farmingdale, L. I., fourth.

that he had earned what he had had an active attempt to dislodge the bearded convict, Monte Walters of Louisville; Lawrence Griffith of Mayfield, and Harry Ferland, convicted from Newport. Tear gas guns brought last night by the Louisville police department, were held by the authorities to be ineffective, inasmuch as their users would be exposed to the fire of the besieged men on account of the isolated site of the mess hall.

Tear gas bombs were ordered from the state arsenal and were expected to arrive today.

Victims of the convicts' desperate bid for freedom were Hodge Cunningham, shot dead; V. B. Mattingly, probably fatally wounded; W. M. Gilbert, whose condition is reported critical; and W. P. Gilpin. Gilbert and Gilpin were sent to a hospital in Paducah.

First plans today for driving the desperadoes from their stronghold without further loss of life included an ingenious scheme to use the pipes of the steam heating plant for forcing tear gas and red pepper into the room where the men are hidden.

During the fusillade yesterday a stray bullet cut one of the pipes. Clouds of steam in the room gave the prison authorities the first intimation of that fact. Today they began preparations to load one of the mains leading to the room with gas and pepper and force it into the room with steam.

A REMEDY FOR NEURASTHENIA

This Pawtucket Man Suffered for Years and Recommends Successful Treatment

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work, mental or physical, without proper attention to diet and exercise, also worry over the struggle for success, are the most common causes. Excesses of almost any kind may produce it. Some diseases, like the grip, will cause neurasthenia. So also will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief.

"My nerves were completely shattered," says Mr. Edmund Smith, of No. 138 North Main street, Pawtucket, R. I., "and I suffered for several years from neurasthenia. I had nervous headaches which were so severe that I would have to go to bed for hours. I was dizzy and faint at times. Spills would come on me as I was walking to work when I would feel as though I were sinking. Once I actually fell down. I had no appetite and food was repulsive to me."

"I tried all kinds of treatments but never received any benefit until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which I read about in a newspaper. After the first box I noticed that my nerves were quicker and I had some appetite. I began to get my strength back after the second box and was not so exhausted at the end of a day's work. They continued to benefit me right along and I believe they are the best remedy for such a nervous condition as I have described."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be purchased at your druggist's or they will be sent by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., postpaid, on receipt of price, six cents per box. Write for the free booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System," which contains a special chapter on the treatment of neurasthenia.—Adv.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Copies of Safety Suggestions
By Chief Saunders Posted
in Firehouses

In connection with the observance of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 7 to 13, as recommended by President Coolidge, Fire Chief Saunders has promulgated a list of safety suggestions, copies of which have been placed in every fire station in Lowell.

With his characteristic thoroughness, the chief recites the damage caused in the nation, the state, and the city during the past year by fire, much of the damage being attributable to carelessness. The list of suggestions appended to the bulletin is a highly practical one.

President Coolidge has issued a proclamation for the observance of

Fire Prevention week—Oct. 7 to 13—seeking the co-operation of all the citizens in the United States in this much needed work of fire prevention.

To interest and obtain results in observance of Fire Prevention week involves no small task. This in a great measure is placed upon the shoulders of the chiefs of the fire departments throughout the country.

This responsibility falls to Chief Edward F. Saunders of the Lowell Fire Department for our city. The chief therefore, asks your co-operation in his endeavor to obtain a reduction of the fire loss for the city of Lowell.

For the enlightenment of the public of our city, who are not aware of the tremendous loss of life and property each year, we submit the following:

America's fire loss for the past year was $21,560,000.

Massachusetts' share was $14,560,000.

City of Lowell, $12,830,000.

It is therefore plain to be seen that there is a great opportunity for us to do a great deal of fire prevention work in our midst. According to statistics 65 per cent. of the fires are of a preventable nature, and are caused by carelessness in different ways. One of the most noteworthy of these is the careless use of matches. The recent $15,000,000 fire at Berkeley, California, was caused by throwing a lighted match away carelessly. There are several other ways such as children starting fires, fires, placing hot ashes in wooden receptacles, fires caused by greasy substances with accumulated rubbish, careless smokers and numerous other ways.

The children can help greatly along these lines of fire prevention as it is most essential for good citizenship, and you no doubt all want to be good citizens.

We might suggest a few ways that you may assist in this work. When you go home make an inspection of the following:

1. Is there any rubbish or old papers scattered about your yard?

2. How are your ashes disposed of—in wooden barrels or galvanized iron barrels?

3. Are your matches kept in a metal receptacle, and away from the reach of children?

4. Are your parents in the habit of starting their fires with the use of kerosene? If so, have them discontinued as several lives have been lost in this way.

5. Have your chimney cleaned at least once a year.

6. Do you know the location of the nearest fire alarm box to your home?

7. Inspect your cellar and attic for the accumulation of rubbish.

If you have made the above inspections, and put into practice carefulness in place of the ever dangerous carelessness you will have done your part in reducing fire losses and in the saving of human lives, of which there are an average of 15,000 suffer death each year by fire.

We have had a number of dump fires recently which were set by boys. We hope that none of the boys here have set such fires, for even though the fire itself may not be of much consequence, it may mean death or a serious accident to the men and apparatus who respond.

It would not be amiss at this time to call your attention to a few of the suggestions offered by our cleaner city committee, the Lowell planning board, who are in accord with fire prevention work.

Say it to yourself:

I will not throw or sweep refuse into the street and leave it there.

I will not allow rubbish to accumulate on my premises.

I will not leave my barrels out 12 or 14 hours before collection time.

If you do these things, Lowell will be benefited to a great extent, and as no one knows where a fire will start, you may be the beneficiary of your act.

Relatives of the dead woman have started a contest over the three wills which disposed of her estate, estimated to be worth between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. The first will, made before her marriage to Charles Webb on Nov. 4, 1922, left her estate to relatives and to various institutions. The second, executed during her last illness, and composed of only 10 lines, left her entire estate to her husband.

The third and last will, on which the contest will be based, was made out just before Mrs. Webb's death, and left unaltered by her, due to her weakened condition. This last document, which was refused by the surrogate's office on the ground that an unsigned will could not be accepted even as evidence, left the greater part of the estate to relatives, and also established a fund to care for a monument to the dead woman which was to be erected in New York.

Former Surrogate Cahalan, counsel

for the contestants, has obtained from Surrogate O'Brien an order to show cause why a temporary administrator should not be appointed to conserve the assets of the estate pending the outcome of the contest. Objections to the will are to be filed either today or tomorrow, Mr. Cahalan said.

One of the developments in the case yesterday was the statement by Dr. Meyer that when he informed Mrs. Webb that his wife's death was imminent, the latter replied:

"We have been together for 10 years. One day lost does not matter."

"Later Mr. Webb did visit the sick room," the doctor said, "but he manifested no interest and left in about 10 minutes. He never saw his wife alive again."

Poison Found in Kidneys of Wealthy New York and Philadelphia Woman

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Poison has been found in the kidneys of Mrs. Gertrude Gorman Webb, wealthy New York and Philadelphia woman, and the Westchester county grand jury, it has been announced, will investigate her death in an endeavor to discover if she was murdered.

Several witnesses already have been heard by the jury, among them Dr. William J. Meyer, who attended Mrs. Webb just before her death and first indicated that she had died under mysterious circumstances, and Mrs. Margaret P. Johnstone, wife of a former New York judge, who declared that her childhood friend had been the victim of slow poisoning.

Dr. A. O. Goettler, toxicologist, who examined Mrs. Webb's internal organs, made his report late yesterday in which he said that certain quantities of poison were found in the body. The grand jury put the case over until next Monday when the investigation will be begun in earnest.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
The Texas Four, which holds the leading place on the present week's bill at the B. F. Keith theatre, could keep on their work indefinitely, so successful have they been in wooing their audiences with sweet melodies. The youngsters are really crackjacks. This is one of several specially good acts. Tom Heler & Co. in "Wanna Make Some Money" with their unusual comedy and Dixon and Sims, in a blackface turn, turn over positively the best act of its kind seen here this season. Popple, the Spanish clown; O'Brien & Elizabeth, in a musical act, and the Follis Sisters, dancers, are the other vaudeville members of the bill. "Is Money Everything," with Norman Kerry in the big role, is the picture feature.

THE STRAND

Among many moments of surprise, shock and suspense found in "Quick-Hands," the Helene Chadwick-Richard Dix feature showing at the Strand, is one so out of the ordinary that it warrants advance description. The participants are two men and a girl, deck of cards and a roulette wheel. The scene is a Mexican rendezvous, where evil is all about. Among the men and women there is a Mexican girl, companionous for beauty and charm. She protects and encourages a shuffling youth whom she knows to be a scapegrace son of Col. Patterson, in command of the U. S. military post across the border. The girl reminds the advances of Ferrago, a burly blond heartbreaker high in the councils of the law-breakers. In his jealousy he plans to humiliate the youth, whom he suspects of being a coward. He produces cards and places them before the young man. The one who cuts the lowest will thrust his hand into a box in which is a snake, and hold it there 60 seconds. His skilled manipulation of the cards protects himself and so the boy is doomed to yield his hand to the reptile. The outcome of this ghastly prank is but the beginning of a big climax at the close. While it has no one can help shudder at it. The outcome must be told by the picture. You'll be surprised.

"A Man of Action" is termed "a hurricane of laughter" and a cyclone of thrills. Romance, adventure, fun, a pretty girl, a young man trying to be a hero and a bunch of crooks that will keep you on the edge of your seat with excitement and make your sides ache with laughter. That's what is guaranteed with this offering. You shouldn't miss it. It's worth while. The remainder of the bill is great. Don't forget the musical numbers.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The Paramount picture, "The Exciters," co-starring Babe Daniels and Antonio Moreno, opened this afternoon at the Merrimack Square theatre, where it was greeted by an enthusiastic house. The story is a mile-a-minute tale of a mile-a-minute girl, for Bonnie Rand, portrayed by Miss Daniels, was born on an express train traveling 60 miles an hour. This dismayed her Aunt Veronica, who predicted that Bonnie would be marked, sure as fate. But she wasn't even scratched in her many daring escapades.

The second feature is "Other Women's Clothes," a thrilling story of modern life set amid elaborate surroundings. The usual program of short features and an excellent series of musical numbers by organist Frank A. Temick complete the bill.

THE COLONIAL

"Sensational" featuring a large and beautiful chorus, will open at the Colonial theatre this afternoon and will continue until the end of the week. The new musical comedy is filled to the brim with color and pep and the costumes, scenery, music and comedienne are a quality that is bound to be attractive. The show will not be a rehearsal of the program of the first part of the week but will be new in every particular. The theatre has been drawing capacity houses since its opening and the management is continuing to insist on comedies that will be properly staged and clean without sacrificing the action and beauty that is necessary to please lovers of good musical comedy here.

Starting this afternoon a new feature picture, "Sunken Rocks," will be given. It has been proving a real thriller wherever it has been shown and the management is pleased to announce its start here.

OPERA HOUSE

"Alias Nora O'Brien" is fooling many this week. In particular those who attend the Opera House with the idea of seeing an Irish play with the old time costumes for "Alias Nora O'Brien" is a modern story, the story of a little Irish girl that comes to America and makes good.

Miss Hazel Corliss as "Nora" does some of the nicest acting she has done this year and presents a character that is lovable and human. Victor Brown as the youthful sweetheart of "Nora" adds still further to his line of admirers. The supporting cast all play their respective parts to good advantage and help "Alias Nora O'Brien" to be one of the most popular plays this season.

Next week the new Selwyn play, "The Exciters" will be the attraction of the Al. Lattininger Players and it promises to get full share of its New York success here in Lowell.

RIALTO THEATRE

"Those were the good old days!" Or depending upon how you look at it, those were the terrible old days. We mean, of course, the days referred to in the William Fox Special, "The Face On the Barroom Floor," which is making such a big hit at the Rialto where it is playing all week, when little old New York, and, for that matter, most cities in non-prohibition states, had a saloon on every corner and four corners to a crossing. "Joe's Place" is the name of the saloon in the picture and it is perhaps a good thing that the "Poor Man's Club" is gone from the land. We say "poor" for too many people are eager to argue on any side of that still debatable question. You will enjoy the character work of Henry B. Walthall, whom all movie fans and theatregoers will agree is one of the really few exceptionally good actors on the screen. As Robert Stevens, the artist, who falls down into the lowest depths, he is the finest character interpretation ever seen on stage or screen. Don't miss it.

AMBITIOUS PROGRAM BY RUTH ST. DENIS

Scenically the Ruth St. Denis production which comes to the Lowell Auditorium on Oct. 23 will be the most ambitious attempt of her career. It will be in every respect superior to last year's worthy entertainment. The program, which will be entirely new for the opening performance, will comprise the works of American composers exclusively, something which has never been attempted before in the history of dance entertainment. The new piece de resistance, which Miss St. Denis has evolved to add to her chain of dance creations of the Far East will be a Babylonian series entitled "Ishtar of the Seven Gates." Among the supporting company will be Doris Humphrey, Lenore Schaeffer, Martha Hardy, Georgia Graham, Theresia Rudawski, Charles Edward Weld, man, Robert Gorham and others. Seats on sale at Steinert's Oct. 13.

DANCING SEASON OPENS AT HIGHLAND CLUB

Friday evening the dancing season at the Highland club will open when the Stratfords will hold the first of their weekly dancing parties. The many followers of this popular organization have been looking forward to these affairs and the opening announcement will be good news to them.

The music Friday evening will be furnished by Walden's orchestra from Lawrence. This orchestra needs no introduction here as they played at the club on several occasions last season, and they have just finished a most successful summer at the Canobie Lake pavilion.

The Stratfords are well remembered by those who attended their parties last year, and Stratford nights will be even more enjoyable this season.

The Truth About Eczema and Piles

"Thousands and thousands of people," says Peterson of Buffalo, "are learning every week that one 3-cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish eczema and banish piles, and the grateful letters I receive every day are worth more to me than money."

"I had eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to stop the agony. I saw your ad and got one box and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a blotch on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson, for the cure is great." Miss Mary Hill, 420 Third Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

"I have had itching piles for 15 years and Peterson's is the only ointment that relieves me, besides the piles seem to have gone." A. B. Ruger, 1137 Washington Avenue, Racine, Wis.

Use Peterson's Ointment for old sores, salt rheum, chafing and all skin diseases. Druggists recommend it.—Adv.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—An airplane attaining a speed of 500 miles an hour can be built, but the craft would fly so fast that it would burn itself up in friction with the air, Glenn L. Woman Lost Control of Nerves— Becomes Rundown

Draco Quickly Restores Her to Good Health

Nerves are the key to health itself and life, too. Without control of them, life becomes a series of physical setbacks. Mrs. Jennie C. Coswell, of 1116 Lawrence street, Lowell, had suffered a nervous collapse. She went beyond her control. This deplorable condition gradually grew on her strength until her entire system became rundown. "My nerves were beyond my control," says Mrs. Coswell. "I couldn't do anything with them and gradually my entire system became rundown. But DRACO has put all this trouble away with the touch."

"Only two bottles of the marvelous remedy were needed to put my nerves in the best of condition."

Just because you are not incapacitated from your business or pleasure, the warning of stomach trouble should

What to Eat to Put Iron in Your Blood and Make You Strong

PHYSICIAN TELLS HOW IRON-CONTAINING VEGETABLES, SUCH AS LENTILS, SPINACH, APPLES, ETC., WHEN REGULARLY TAKEN WITH ORGANIC IRON BUILDS GREAT STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE. "At their own doors—in the very gardens of those who are weak, nervous and ailing all the while is one of the most valuable tonics and strength-builders known to medical science," said Dr. Emil Sauer, well known New England physician, when consulted recently. Dr. Sauer further said: "If your daily diet contains an abundant amount of iron you are giving your body the red blood food it craves. But if your blood lacks iron and is thin, pale and watery you cannot expect to be strong and well. On the contrary, your nerves become weakened and you become irritable, fussy and easily upset. In such cases, what you need is iron—organic iron to remove the cause of your trouble, and the moment organic iron is added it is often wonderful how quickly your multitude of symptoms will disappear and how strong and vigorous you will become." But be careful to distinguish between ordinary metallic iron which people usually take and true organic iron. Metallic iron

Action on Resolutions Today —Many Important Matters to Be Decided

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Action on resolutions was to begin here today at the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor. Proposed participation of the federation in politics and suggested changing of the basis of organizations from crafts to industries in line with the "one big union" idea, were among the matters to be decided.

Defeat of proponents of a resolution for recognition of soviet Russia in an attempt to have the resolution included in the international affairs committee, was interrupted by leaders as a straw in the wind showing the strength of the conservative element in the convention.

Leaders and delegates who have so far expressed themselves informally in the convention hall or at the hotels have indicated a movement on foot for any change in the official family of the federation.

President Samuel Gompers loses no opportunity to reassert his position in the opposition to radicalism.

"I believe the American labor movement prefers to make constructive reasonable demands," he said in an address yesterday. "The labor movement in America has done so much for American workers, the American people, that there isn't anything that can eliminate it, not the bitter antagonism of employers and big business and high finance, nor the serpent which is trying to sting us in the heart."

Denounce Fascist Movement

President Gompers, as a delegate to the Cigar-makers' International, joined with three other delegates of that union yesterday in introducing a resolution denouncing the Fascist movement and "establishment of any form of tyranny in Italy or any other country under whatsoever name it may be launched."

The resolution declares that the Fascist union the leadership of Mussolini, has by force, violence and tyrannical oppression, taken possession of the government of Italy and taken from the people the rights of freedom of assembly, freedom of press, freedom of speech, and the denial of workmen to cease work (strike). In defense of any furtherance of their rights and interests as wage earners and in the process of such forceful and tyrannical oppression have been committed upon the lives of the Italian wage earners."

Why Suffer From Bronchial Asthma?

Simple Home Treatment Makes Breathing Easy

Just because you start the day tired, lifeless, worn-out from loss of rest and the difficult breathing of miserable Asthma—do not think you have to stay this way long.

Be strong and well, breathe clearly and easily again by using this simple treatment known as Oxidaze, the prescription of a Worcester, Mass., Physician.

For any form of Asthma where the bronchial tubes are irritated, the breathing short and difficult, its healing, relieving action is really wonderful. Sufferers who can't breathe at night and who gasp for a good, clear breath will appreciate the relief and comfort Oxidaze gives.

Oxidaze is a tablet made from essential oils which, when the patient dissolves in the mouth, almost immediately soothes the irritation, clears out the choked up air passages and enables the sufferer to breathe easily and get a real comfortable night's sleep.

It is sold by leading druggists, including Green's drug store and Liggett's, who agree to refund the full purchase price of the first package to any sufferer who does not obtain satisfactory relief. Asthmatic sufferers should give Oxidaze a trial. It is harmless and inexpensive.—Adv.

Mothers!! Apply Common Sense

THIS is the era of the prevention of disease and sensible people do not wait until sickness has actually come before remedying the trouble. The crowded hospitals everywhere are sad examples of the results of neglect. Be especially watchful of children. Restlessness, lack of normal appetite and feverishness usually indicate constipation. Stop it that instant with a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and you will have prevented real sickness. Mrs. Ida Williamson of 1637 Pine St., Long Beach, Cal., and Mrs. Lou Brawley of Self, Ark., never have illness in the family because of their prompt use of Syrup Pepsin.

Three Rules of Health

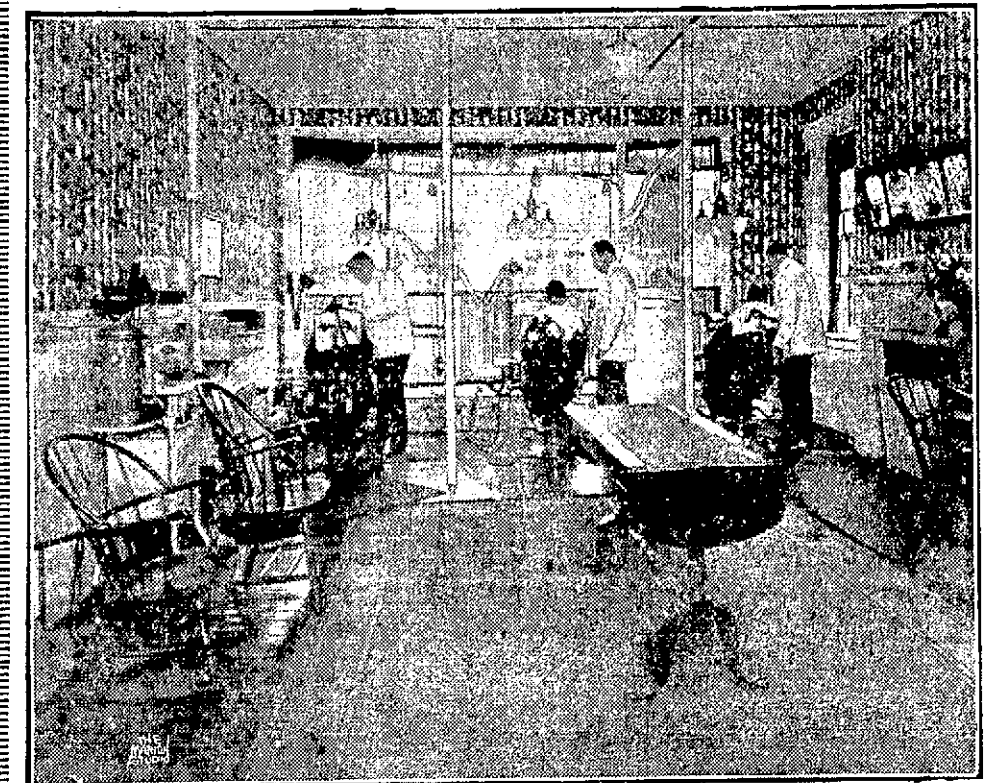

Purchase a bottle of Syrup Pepsin at a drug store and always keep one in the family medicine chest. Give it to anyone from infant to grandparent, for it is safe, and the cost is less than a reprieve. You can keep a family healthy with just this simple medicine. Give it for constipation, torpid liver, indigestion, biliousness, headaches, colds and other evidence of bowel obstruction.

Dr. Caldwell, who was a practicing physician for 47 years and who originated this formula, had three rules of health that he found very effective among his patients and which you can follow with great benefit: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels open.

William Martin Classed With Greatest Operatic Tenors
of the Day

Irving Scherke, one of the leading critics of the French opera stage, says of William Martin, "he is without question to be classed with the greatest operatic tenors of the day."

Such is the tribute paid in a recent Paris edition of the New York Tribune just at hand. Scherke, famous European critic, was reviewing the opening performance of "Werther" at the Opera-Comique. Mr. Martin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Martin 98 Riverside street, had the leading role in this presentation. He left his home here late this summer to return to the French stage.

The famous critic is liberal with his appreciation of Mr. Martin's art. The Tribune review says in part:

"Werther," opera in four acts by Jules Massenet, libretto by E. Blau, Paul Milliet, and G. Hartmann. At the Opera Comique.

"The matinee performance of 'Werther' at the Opera-Comique, Thursday, amounted to a personal triumph for Mr. William Martin, an American tenor, who sang the title role. Others in the cast were Mlle. Brohly, Charlotte, Mlle. Pignetti, Sophie, Mr. Bauge, Albert, and Mr. Tuhlan, the Bailli. Mr. Albert Wolff conducted with his accustomed authority and finish.

"On the performance in general, it is hardly necessary to remark in this place. Werther is oft repeated in this town, the public are acquainted with its score and story, likewise the quality of 'show' the Opera-Comique puts on when it concerns itself with this piece. That quality was maintained on Thursday. Not only was it maintained, but when Mr. Martin sang he made such an enhancing contribution to it that the auditors were moved to extremely high points of enthusiasm.

"Mr. Martin's reappearance in opera was anxiously awaited. It has come to pass, and both public and opera have made valuable acquisition. From the first note of his singing to the last, Mr. Martin delivered himself of a tenor voice of extraordinary beauty, power and ravishing quality.

It is a voice that strikes home and which treats those who hear it to a genuine thrill and what opera-lover these days does not know how rare a thing is a 'thrill'.

"Mr. Martin possesses the first and most important requirement of an opera singer, viz., a beautiful, well-trained voice. In the natural, attractive quality of his voice, its sonority, its susceptibility to all gradations from sweetest pianissimo to stirring, roof-shaking climax, its color, warmth and nuance, he is, without question, to be classed with the greatest operatic tenors of the day.

"Under the spell of his singing we practically forgot such matters as acting, stage conduct, etc., only as a critic we dared not entirely do so. He freighted the air with vibrant, lovely tone. It was a pleasure to listen to him, and it is a pleasure to here record the success for which nature and application have so admirably fitted him.

"After each of his songs Mr. Martin was rewarded with long, enthusiastic applause. Mingled with it were excited cries of bravo, bis, and Martin. Part of the four-act-reveller he was obliged to repeat, and we had the feeling that, at the end of the acts the major portion of the honors were intended for him."

FIREMEN WERE BUSY

Box 119 was sounded for an automobile fire in the rear of 5 Canton street at 4:34 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The damage was slight. At 6:05 o'clock a still alarm summoned a chemical truck to Washington street, where a rubbish fire was quickly extinguished. Dump fires in Aiken street and on the old Fair grounds were responsible for alarms at 5:30 and 7:25 o'clock respectively.

KENNEL CLUB TO HOLD PUPPY SHOW

At the monthly meeting of the Lowell Kennel club in its headquarters in the Odd Fellows building, Middlesex street, it was voted to hold a puppy show for all breeds the first Wednesday in November, and the following committee was appointed to make arrangements: Allen Williams, John Thomas, George Lee, Mr. Robbins and Mrs. Bond. It was also voted to donate $10 to the Haverhill Kennel club for its show, as the down-river club has rendered valuable assistance to the local club in the past.

President Frederick G. Humphries was in the chair last night and read a letter of thanks from the Lowell Guild for the $500 check sent to the build by the club as the proceeds of the dog show held last spring. The sum of $5 was donated to help in the solution of the disclaimer question, William H. Rigby giving an outline of the purpose of the campaign.

RECEPTION TO NEWLY MARRIED COUPLE

A very pretty reception was held last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crawford, 139 School street, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Simpson, who were recently married. Mrs. Simpson was formerly Miss Beatrice Crawford.

The home was prettily decorated with autumnal ferns and dahlias, with a wedding bell and various colored streamers of confetti suspended over the receiving line. The bride wore dove colored crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of pinks and roses. In the receiving line besides Mr. and Mrs. Simpson were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crawford and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Simpson.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mona Montgomery, Mrs. Wm. Bottom, Mrs. Fred Soule, and Miss Nora Johnson. Music was furnished throughout the evening by a ladies' orchestra. The ushers were Mr. Elmer Crawford, Mr. John Montgomery, and Mr. Herbert Mack.

How Backache and Periodic Pains Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Olean, N. Y. — "Every month my blood would go to my head and I would have such a headache, nosebleed, backache and pains that I could not do my work. At night I could not get my rest and nothing seemed to do me any good. I read some of your testimonials about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, so I decided to try it. I had only taken two bottles when I began to be better, and my back did not hurt me nor my head ache. I felt like a new woman. The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine and I will always recommend it." — Mrs. A. D. EARLS, 630 N. 5th St., Olean, N. Y.

Mrs. Kelsey adds her Testimony
Copenhagen, N. Y. — "I read your advertisement in the papers and my husband induced me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to get relief from pains and weakness. I am willing for you to publish this letter if you think it will help others." — Mrs. HENRIET KELSEY, R.F.D., Copenhagen, N. Y.

YES ERDAY WAS NOTEWORTHY DAY IN BIG LEAGUE BASEBALL

NIP AND TUCK BATTLE FOR SECOND PLACE IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

Cleveland's Victory Over St. Louis and Detroit's Triumph Over Chicago Enabled Tigers to Remain Within Striking Distance of Indians—Tris Speaker Equals World's Record for Two Base Hits—Yanks and Giants Fraternize in Exhibition Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The equalling of a world's record, the continuation of the nip and tuck battle for second place in the American League standing, and the fraternizing of two notable world series opponents in an exhibition game, made yesterday a noteworthy day in big league baseball.

Tris Speaker, player-manager of the Cleveland Indians, was credited with equalling a world's record when he drove out his 50th two base hit of the current season in a game in which his team defeated the St. Louis Browns 9 to 2.

Cleveland's victory in that game and Detroit's 8 to 4 triumph over the White Sox enabled the Tigers to remain within striking distance of the Indians in their race for the runner-up position in Ban Johnson's circuit.

In the remaining American League game of yesterday, the Athletics, profiting through the wildness of Ree, a Washington rookie, who gave six walks in the second inning, trounced the Senators, 12 to 8, thereby making a clean sweep of the series.

Dutch Ruether of the Dodgers registered his 15th win of the season when Brooklyn beat the Braves, 8 to 6, in the single National League game on yesterday's schedule. By winning the game Ruether will receive a $1000 bonus from the Brooklyn team owner.

The fraternizing of coming world's series opponents occurred when Babe Ruth, Aaron Ward and Elmer Smith of the Yankees temporarily joined the Giants in an exhibition contest in which the Baltimore Orioles were defeated. Ruth retired from play after making a home run in the fifth inning.

RAY SCHALK SAYS YANKS HAVE BIG EDGE IN CONDITION

Star Catcher Thinks Hard Race in National League Has Reduced Strength of Giants—Expects Pennock to Star for Yankees

BY RAY SCHALK, World's Greatest Catcher

Absolutely condition, both physical and mental, plays a big part in a team's showing in the world series.

The Yankees have had a comparatively easy season of it. Since the first of August they have been out in front by a comfortable margin, have never really been pressed to hold their lead in Boston and one in Washington, the Yanks needed only one game to clinch the pennant.

Baseball fans the country over will recall what a tough time the Yankees had winning last year. Going into Boston with four games to play, they were down to the wire, and it was not until the day before the close of the season.

After the fall-end Boston club had won the first two games there was near panic in the ranks of the Yankees. The veteran Jack Quinn and "Rip" Collins had pitched the two games for the Yanks. For the final game it was either Ferguson or Pennock for Boston. Both warmed up and Ferguson got the call.

In the first inning, the Yankees scored three runs on Ferguson before he was derided in favor of Pennock. During the rest of the game, Pennock, who I figure to star with the Yankees against the Giants, held the New Yorkers, unless, if my memory serves me correctly, New York won by the scant margin of 3 to 2.

That victory clinched the pennant. The last day of the season, Warmouth, a southpaw recruit pitching for Washington, blanked the Yankees 8 to 0. New York staggered across the line with just one game to spare.

It is an entirely different story this year, the shoe is on the other foot. While the Giants have been hard pressed from start to finish, and twice seemed to be in danger of losing the lead.

Winning the pennant early has enabled Manager Huggins to give some of his players a much-needed rest. On the other hand, the Giants have been forced to go the entire season without a day's rest, and a few days of rest are to a player who has been giving his best every day for six months.

It is not uncommon for a team that has been hard pressed all the way to relax when the objective is accomplished. Often it is a difficult matter to get the players back on their game and respond what a tonic a few days of rest are to a player who has been giving his best every day for six months.

I am positive that the grueling season the Yankees were forced to go through in 1922 and 1923 had its effect on their world series play. This year it should be different. The Yankees should go into the series trained to the minute. If they lose, it cannot be blamed on lack of condition.

Aside from the hard race of the Giants, illness and injuries have slowed up several of their players. It is certain that the Giants will not enter the series in as good shape as in the two previous clashes.

However, the Giants are best in a pinch. I can't see them as a club possessing a manager who can get the best out of his men when the situation seems worst. There are just a few reasons why the Giants are able to respond more quickly than the average team under unfavorable conditions.

The Yankees, I feel, have the edge as to condition, physical and mental, and I expect them to overcome the supremacy of the Giants. It's quite a help.

BOXING BOUTS TONIGHT

Many Out-of-Town Fans Coming to Witness Tansey-Gradwell "Rubber" Battle

With delegations from Roxbury, Somerville, Lawrence, Nashua, Woburn and other places coming to swell the local turnout one of the biggest crowds of the season is expected to be on hand when Young Tansey and Willie Gradwell step into the ring at the Crescent rink tonight.

Tansey and Gradwell, who are among the leading welterweights in this section are also bitter rivals because of two previous battles. These engagements were fought in Revere and Boston, the former going to Tansey via the decision and the latter to Gradwell on points. Hence tonight's encounter is the third or rubber battle.

Several Boston clubs were after this match. In fact Gradwell was guaranteed $750 by one of the Boston clubs to sign up to meet Tansey. But "Toke" Dodge stepped into the limelight, when he already had Tansey's name in a contract and pulled off the plum.

That Boston fight followers realize the class of the attraction is evident by their demands for reservations. All day the Moody club phone in the Harrington building has been busy with calls for seats.

Nashua fans are coming to cheer Eddie Kennedy on to victory over Battling McLeod of Cambridge in the semi-final. The latter is a deaf mute. Both are big fellows who can hit hard.

Silent Kenney of South Boston, an other deaf mute, and Young Boss of Lynn will meet in one preliminary and Babe Adams of Lawrence and Young Bojone of Lynn will meet in the other six rounds.

Billy Murphy of this city and Young Mack of New Bedford two of the leading featherweights in New England, have been matched to appear here on Columbus day. The first of this city's four men and after a sensational battle Murphy was awarded the decision.

LYNN-BURMAN BOIT OFF

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The world's bantamweight championship battle between champion Joe Lynch of New York and Joe Burman of Chicago, which originally was scheduled here for Oct. 12, has been postponed at the request of Lynch's manager, to Oct. 19. It was announced today.

COACH ROBERT C. ZUPPKE

ADAMS PICKS GIANTS EXPECT HANK GOWDY TO STAR

Pittsburgh Star Pitcher Thinks Babe Ruth Will Fizzle Again in Series

BY "HANK" ADAMS, Who Pitched Pittsburgh Pirates to Victory in 1920 World Series Over Detroit Tigers, and Who Has Pitched Against Giants This Year and Seen Yankees in Action

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—In spite of the best efforts of both the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Cincinnati Reds to prevent it, the fans of the country are going to witness another all-Mannhattan world series this fall.

The Giants and the Yankees will be the representatives of their respective leagues for the third consecutive time, which in itself establishes a record. I would like very much to have had a chance to oppose the Yankees this year, as I opposed the Detroit Tigers away back in 1920, when I was a new comer in major league circles. But this was not to be, and I am not selfish enough to begrudge the Giants their spoils. They had to work hard to get into a position to cash in on them.

I do not believe their hard fight for the pennant in their own league has harmed their world series chances any. Indeed, if anything, I believe it has helped them, for it has kept their minds on nothing but baseball, and has not permitted them to let down, which is often fatal.

So far as the outcome of the series is concerned, I believe that the Giants will uphold the honor of the National league and come through with a world's title again, just as they did in 1921 and 1922.

The Yankees didn't do much against them in either of the past two years, and I can't see much difference between the Giants of this year and those of 1922.

Perhaps the pitching is not quite as good as it was in 1922. There is not much choice between the two teams, and the games are likely to be hard fought. I believe the Giants, with their splendid record behind them, will have more confidence than the Yankees, and I think Babe Ruth is concerned. I doubt if he will do much better than he did last year or in 1921. He has played better ball this year, it is true, but in the coming series he will be out of his element. McGraw and his lieutenants as well as the army of Giant fans all the time. Moreover, the knowledge that he failed to come through two successive years will be a mental hazard which may have a bad influence on him.

TEMPORARY BLEACHERS FOR ALUMNI FIELD

In order to accommodate the large crowd that is expected to attend the football game between the Concord, N. H., and Lowell high schools at Alumni field next Saturday, Headmaster Henry H. Harris of the high school has made arrangements with the park department for the erection of the latter's temporary bleachers along the side line of the playing field.

Enthusiasm among the students over the drive for $3500 for the raising of the debt on Alumni field is at fever pitch and the boys and girls are working daily to secure contributions for this purpose. A ready response has been met among the downtown merchants and one boy reports having collected over $25 in one afternoon. A contribution of $25 from an unsolicited source has been added to the fund which Mr. Harris plans to add this sum to the winning team's total at the close of the drive.

Mass meetings of all the classes have been held during the past week and in every case the entire class has promised to support the football team and cheer and sing have been rehearsed at these meetings, and it is an assured fact that the local football team will get all the support necessary from the students.

Tomorrow the last reminder of sparring park will be done away with for the sign over the main grandstand, "Sparring Park, Lowell H.S. Club" will be removed and a new sign reading "Alumni Field" will be put in its place.

WOMEN'S AUTUMN GOLF TOURNAMENT

Mrs. C. Marshall Forrest and Mrs. W. Harold McKnight will meet in the final match in the women's autumn golf tournament at the Vesper Country club. It will be an 18-hole match and will be decided some time next week.

In the semi-finals yesterday Mrs. Forrest won over Mrs. Arthur J. Muck and Mrs. McKnight defeated Mrs. C. H. Hayes. The first match was played yesterday morning and in the afternoon Mrs. McKnight scored a well-earned victory.

The final match will be a handicap affair, and as Mrs. Forrest is rated with a few handicap she will have a

WANT TO USE GRIDIRON AT ALUMNI FIELD

Coincidental with the launching of a drive for $3500 by the high school students to pay off the indebtedness on Alumni field, a group of football enthusiasts, headed by Maurice Conroy and Fred Desmond representing the Belvidere A.A., have begun the circulation of a petition among the sporting fraternity of the city, requesting the High School Alumni association to grant the use of the gridiron at Alumni field for Sunday football games.

The circulars made their appearance yesterday and are being signed with amazing rapidity by devotees of the popular fall pastime. The petition, with the signatures attached, will be presented to the executive committee of the alumni organization as soon as the petitioners have satisfied themselves that enough names have been secured.

The action is taken in view of the fact that Lowell's A.A. has always been without a suitable enclosure in which to conduct football contests, in regard to style. As sparring park, now Alumni field and the property of the high school alumni, is the only enclosed grounds in the city, amateur teams feel they have been given some consideration in the matter of rental.

The argument that the North and the public playgrounds are available for such usage, is discouraged by the proponents of the Alumni field petition, who contend that football cannot be conducted along sportsmanlike lines on the above-mentioned grounds because the spectators encircle the players and render effective play difficult.

Conducted along the morning on the gridiron at Alumni field for Sunday games, Henry H. Harris, headmaster of the high school and president of the alumni association, said he could not see how the grounds could be let, owing to an existing statute which distinctly says the grounds cannot be used for such purposes. The Alumni association, he added, "is not opposed to Sunday sports and does not forbid the use of Alumni field on this account. Personally I think Sunday sports are a good thing inasmuch as they provide healthy outdoor recreation for young people who otherwise would be idle in degrading games. But as far as renting the park for Sunday games to which admission is charged, it is absolutely out of the question."

Edward W. Trull, clerk of the district court and treasurer of the Alumni association, said he had no objection to Mr. Harris and produced the following extracts from the statutes: "No admission fee shall be charged, directly or indirectly, and no collection shall be made at such games."

Again, "It shall be lawful to take part in or witness any athletic contest, sport or game, in which the contestants do not receive and have not been promised any pecuniary reward, remuneration or consideration directly or indirectly, from the promoter thereof, on the Lord's day between the hours of two and six."

PLAN SPORTS FOR WINTER SEASON

Enpl. Kernan of the park department was instructed by the members of the commission, in regular session last night, to devise a winter sports program and other sport devices to be used this coming winter. With the success attained with the lamprompt action last season, the commission feels that a regulation chute will meet with unanimous favor. A snow tractor, to be used in the removal of snow, was also discussed at the meeting and the superintendent instructed to report on the matter at the next meeting.

The high school was granted the use of the department's bleachers at its football game at Alumni field next Saturday.

The petitions of E. G. Humphries and D. P. Siamatikakes for tree removals at 211 Methuen street and 19 Common street, respectively, were referred to the tree committee.

A deal in new home. Mrs. McKnight is a comparatively new golfer and therefore her handicap will be much larger. At any rate, it will not be an interesting contest and a big gallery is expected to go over the course with the analysts.

Ed Reulbach Pitched One-Hit Game for Cubs Against White Sox in 1906—Five Two-Hit Games on Record—Coombs Never Beaten in World's Series—Mathewson, Adams, Coveleskie and Other Heroes

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—While unusual pitching performances have been frequent in world's series baseball, the annual struggle for the championship never has known a one-hit game. The nearest to a perfect performance was pitched by Ed Reulbach of the Chicago Cubs, against the Chicago White Sox in the series of 1906.

Reulbach was found for only one safety in that game, the famed "Jiggs" Donohue blurring the record with a clean strike. Reulbach walked six men, however, and fanned three.

Five two-hit games are on record. Ed Walsh, pitching for the White Sox against the Cubs in the same series that brought one-hit game to Reulbach, allowed but two safe swats, and won game 3 to 0. Still another great pitching feat was accomplished in that series when Mordecai Brown, of the Cubs, held the Sox to two blows the day after Walsh's fine game. Brown won his game 1 to 0.

In 1913, Ed Plank of Connie Mack's great Athletics, held the Giants to two singles and won, 3 to 1. In 1911, Bill James of the "Miracle" team of Boston Braves, held the Athletics to two hits and shut them out, 1 to 0. Waite Hoyt, the youthful star of the New York Yankees, was found for but two hits by the Giants in the 1921 series and won, 3 to 0.

Jack Coombs of the Athletics hurled the best three-hit game in world series when on October 17, 1911, he defeated Christy Mathewson and the Giants, 3 to 2 in 11 innings. Coombs won five world's series games in his career and never was beaten although one game of which he twirled a part went against his team. He won four games for the Athletics and, later, one for Brooklyn.

Coombs' great record follows:

October 15, 1910—Pitching for Athletics against Mordakai Brown, Chicago Cubs; won 5 to 3, allowing seven hits, striking out eight men and passing nine.

October 20, 1910—Pitching for Athletics against Ed Reulbach, Chicago Cubs; won 12 to 5, allowing six hits, striking out eight men and passing four.

October 23, 1910—Pitching for Athletics against Brown, Cubs; won 7 to 2, allowing nine hits, striking out seven men and passing one.

October 17, 1911—Pitching for Athletics against Christy Mathewson, New York Giants; won 3 to 2, in eleven innings, allowing three hits, striking out seven men and passing four.

October 10, 1916—Pitching for Brooklyn against Carl Mays, Boston Red Sox; won 4 to 3, allowing seven hits in six and one-third innings, striking out one man and passing one.

In 1911, against the Giants, Coombs slightly injured himself and was forced to retire in the tenth inning with the score tied. Plank, who finished the game, lost it 4 to 3.

By his work in the 1910 series, Coombs became one of the four pitchers to win three games in one world's series.

In 1905, Christy Mathewson won three games for the Giants against the Athletics, all of them shut-outs; in 1909, Charles "Babe" Adams won three for Pittsburgh against Detroit; and in 1910, Stanley Coveleskie, of

LOWELL HIGH MEETS CONCORD SATURDAY

Scrimmage, tackling practice and signal drills were indulged in by the high school football players at Alumni field yesterday afternoon. Lowell will play Concord, N. H., high in this city next Saturday and as a win will encourage the team, Coach Liston intends to have them drilled up to the minute. The new tackling dummy is being put to good use and the men are allowed to go it in hard style.

Football practice has been made more interesting to the candidates with the installation of the showers at the park and the furnishing of free transportation at the expense of the high school. Arrangements were made yesterday to have the players ride to the park on the 4:15 car and return on the 5 o'clock train.

Among the new players out for the squad is Joe Quatrecas, who aspires to the position of quarterback. He looks good in practice and as the signal-calling position is open now, he has a good chance of copying it. If he cannot, it is probable that he will receive the assignment in the Concord game.

LOWELL FASHION SHOW

Big Event Planned for Oct.
15 at Keith's—Only Local
Models

Widespread interest has been aroused by the announcement that young women from Lowell and vicinity would be given the preference as models for the big fall style pageant which will be the feature offering at Keith's theatre during the entire week of Oct. 15. This will be the first time that local young women have been given the opportunity to be featured in a production of this magnitude at a local playhouse, and it appears certain that many young women from Lowell and vicinity will be desirous of getting the valuable training that this pageant offers to say nothing of wearing the newest styles in an abundance of different types of garments for all occasions.

Another point of interest connected with this revue is the fact that nothing but local merchandise will be shown. All the attire for both women and men will be from local shops and the same condition applies to the dress accessories. Being an all-Lowell production gives an added interest to the affair that does not usually attach to productions of this kind.

Miss Florence M. Fredericks who will direct and stage the revue, is now in New York supervising the completion of the special scenery that will be used for the pageant. There will also be special lighting effects and stage settings, making this the most elaborate and complete as well as most effective style revue ever seen here and one of the most pretentious ever staged in New England.

There will be three different scenes and each one will tell a story without spoken word. The models will be trained to act out those scenes and it is said that the action is such that it makes the presentation intensely interesting throughout.

In addition to several young women, Miss Fredericks can also use some young men and several women of a mature type. The aim is to show all types of garments for all ages and all occasions so that the range of models will be unusually large. All young women who would like to be considered, as well as the other types that have been mentioned, are invited to give their names to the manager of Keith's theatre or leave their names and addresses at the box office. Selections for the cast will be made by Miss Fredericks within a short time.

BREAD AND MEAT AS FOOD
Both children and adults eat too much meat. Meat's food value is well established, but although it contains more fat than bread, carbohydrates and minerals are practically lacking from it.

Bread has been termed the staff of life, and in many countries where meat is not obtainable or used as food, bread or its equivalent in the starch and sugar group (carbohydrates) is just that. In such countries the fats are furnished chiefly by oils.

The relative value of these two foods as builders of energy, strength and blood, or working power, is of great importance to all workers as well as laymen in our classes.

White bread is one of our chief foods in America. As it comes from the miller, with some of its nutritive value taken out by milling, its composition in each 100 parts is 1.1 parts mineral matter, 13 parts of fat, 9.2 parts of protein, 35.3 parts of water, 53.1 parts of carbohydrates.

Bread has a fuel value of 1215 calories per pound.

Ordinary round steak contains about 8.4 parts of unobtainable material, 1.2 parts of mineral matter, no carbohydrates, 9.2 parts of fat, 13.5 parts of protein, 35.5 parts of water, and has a fuel value of 144 calories per pound.

The quantity of protein in meat (nitrogenous and albuminous parts of food) is nearly twice as great as that of bread. This is the building material of the body. However, a half pound of bread will furnish enough protein for the necessary requirements of the hard-working man for a day.

Careful experiments have determined that the protein of bread, milk, potatoes or meat have practically the same food value.

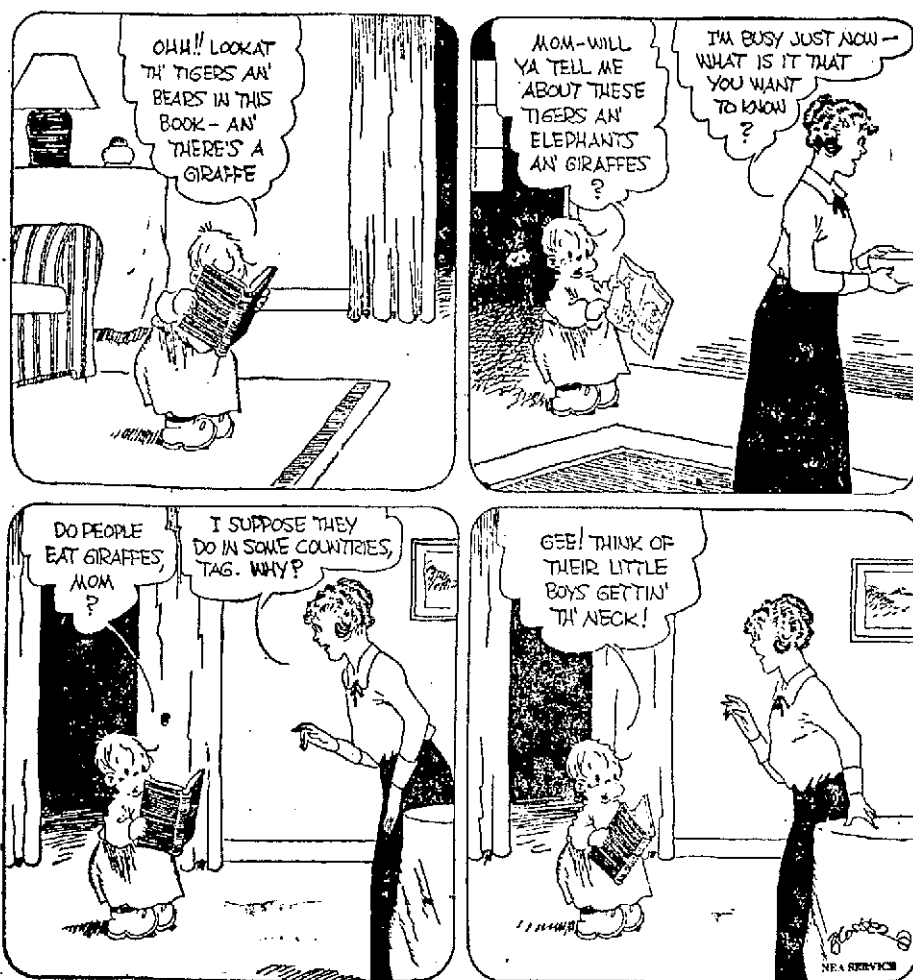

Thus, taking all food elements into consideration, bread is more valuable as a builder than meat. It contains more lime and mineral elements that are strong in bone building, a most important nutritive essential. A person, either child or adult, may be well sustained on bread without meat, but not on meat without bread or its equivalent food in the starch group.

Some meat once a day is essential but undoubtedly most people eat too much.

In youth meat is more essential than in middle age. Old age requires little or none, a vegetable diet being fully sustaining.

The Pride of Every Woman

HAVEN'T you often wished that the kiddies' clothes and the table-cloths, curtains, and other wash fabrics wouldn't soil so easily?

Your wish can be realized! Starch with Linit—the remarkable new starch.

New Starch Discovery

LINIT is a scientific starch discovery—distinctly different from old-fashioned starches. It was originally made for the makers of fine fabrics who had to secure the finest possible finish.

Now, for the first time, it is offered to the housewife. With Linit you can get the same wonderful finish you have always admired in goods that come direct from the store.

Linit gives a soft, cool, pliable finish to your garments. And you will find your Linit-starched clothes and fabrics remain clean and fresh much longer. Also, Linit makes even ordinary cotton goods look and feel like expensive linen.

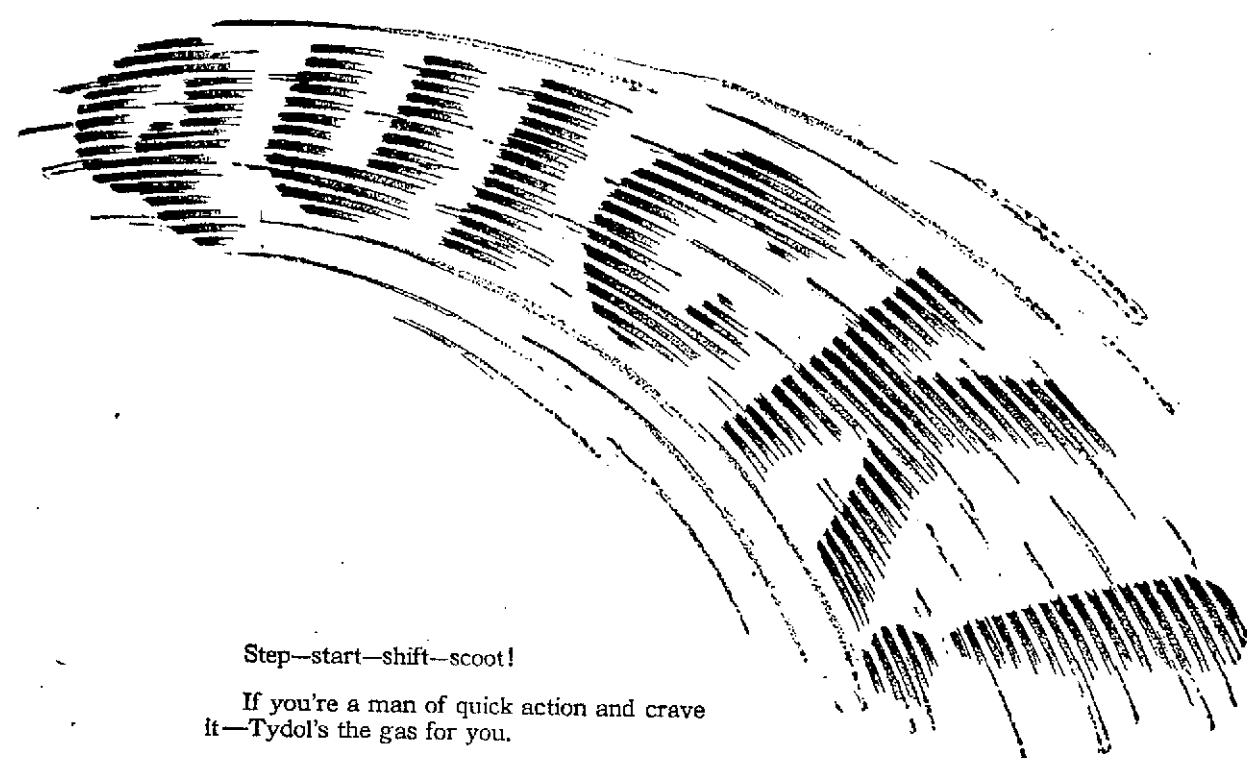

Important to You
LINIT makes a THIN "MILKY" MIXTURE, free-running like water, which is quickly absorbed by the fabric, thus saving the time and labor of "smearing on", which was customary with old-fashioned starches. The Linit mixture does not present the stiff, jelly-like appearance of ordinary starch. This is why you will find it much easier to iron with Linit.

Your grocer now has Linit, 10c
—Perfection in starching guaranteed or your money refunded.
Linit is made by the Corn Products Refining Company—makers of the famous Argo Starch, Karo Syrup and Mazola Salad and Cooking Oil.

Fred G. Thompson "Man-
Woman" Showered With
Congratulations in Court

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Acquitted of having, as a smiling girl hand, shot and killed Richard C. Tesmer, wealthy insurance broker in a holdup last summer, Fred G. Thompson last night reassumed the feminine habitment that for 14 years permitted him to go unchallenged as a woman and 11 years ago to marry Frank Carrick.

Feminine throughout the trial in his actions, gestures and remarks, despite the rough main garb of the jail prisoner, Thompson, woman-like shrunk towards his attorneys as the jury foreman pronounced the words of acquittal.

He immediately recovered, however, and the temperament of the old days as a cabaret entertainer asserted itself as Thompson swung up on a table and requested nobody to go until he had drunk everybody. Cheers and cries of approval of the verdict were shrieked as men and women crushed about the "man-woman" to congratulate him.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT
Curtis McEwan, who is alleged to have cut off a dog's ear with a pair of scissors, was arraigned in district court this morning on a charge of mutilating an animal. He pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until Oct. 5, bonds being set at $200.

The complainant in the case was Agent Richardson of the Humane society. McEwan claimed that he cut the animal's ear unintentionally, saying that the dog had taken a "fit" and he was endeavoring to help him.

Rechette Mustafi was fined $5 for driving an automobile without a license. He was arrested near the depot by Officer Francis O'Loughlin, who stated that defendant failed to stop on signal.

A drunkenness charge against Geo. Fournier of Peterboro, N. H., was filed with the understanding that defendant leave town. He was found lying in a parked truck in Cheever street last night.

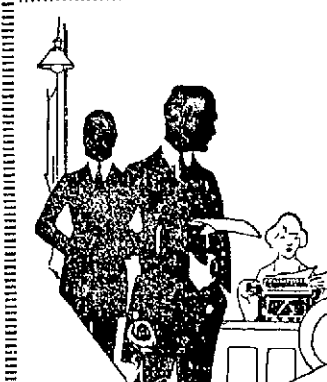

RACE WITH FIRE
MAY COST $10,000
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 4.—A race with fire conducted last night by Engineer Black of train No. 64, which left New York at 6 p. m., may cost the New Haven railroad $10,000, it is estimated today.

Notified at Milford that the rear of electric engine No. 635 was afire by reason of a short circuit, Black, it is stated, did not slacken speed in the belief that the blaze was slight, and attempted to bring his passenger cars into New Haven on schedule. The fire, gaining great headway with the speed of the train, Black was forced to abandon his race for schedule and pulled into West Haven where the engine was extinguished. Firemen of West Haven unscathed flames which had almost gutted the interior of the engine. Another locomotive brought the cars into this city a time but slightly behind schedule.

LOWELL MASONS WILL GO TO VIRGINIA
On Thursday, Nov. 1 the cornerstone of the George Washington Masonic Memorial will be laid at Alexandria, Va. Hundreds of thousands of Masons from all over the United States will witness the impressive ceremony. Official representatives will be present from each of the 17,000 Blue Lodges in the country. The building and grounds will cover 12 acres, and will cost $4,000,000 when completed. Many Lowell Masons are expected to attend.

CURTILMENT AT AMOSKEAG MILLS
MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 4.—Business conditions cause an immediate curtailment in the cotton department of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co., according to notices posted in the mills today. The cotton department will be closed Oct. 6 for an indefinite period.

As business improves, various rooms will be started again, according to the notices. The worsted and mechanical departments are not affected. About 10,000 operatives are affected by the cotton department curtailment.

PLAYGROUND MEDALS
Several playground medals, emblematic of athletic supremacy, are still in the office of Supl. Knean of the park department at city hall, and the following are requested to present themselves to the superintendent as soon as possible and receive their awards: Grace Wilbur, Rose O'Neil, Madeline Kenney, Florence Goodfield, Jeannette Kearns and Miss Bellmore. Judging from the interest evinced in all quarters yesterday and today, the annual fall opening of the Chalifoux store tonight should be exceptionally well attended. Conners Leads Appeal To Full Bench
Sheriffs were still on the job and the safe remained locked. At noon of that day the safe was opened for the purpose of paying off municipal employees, but not before the city solicitor had temporarily vacated the execution order and the sheriffs had been withdrawn. This restraining order was secured by the city solicitor on the ground that the city should not be forced to pay the claim to the Engineering & Service company until the 26-day period allowed for an appeal against the decision had expired.

The wisdom of the city's stand was proven today when the city auditor was formally notified that the litigants had decided to exercise their right of appeal. They will file a motion with Judge Crosby tomorrow praying that the present injunction restraining payment of the amount involved be declared in full force and effect until the full bench has settled the appealed case.

A temporary injunction against the county sheriff and all his deputies will also be asked, restraining them from levying on the city in this action until such time as the finding of the full bench on the appeal shall be given. This move will occasion a long delay. It may be three or four months before the matter is entirely settled.

OAKLANDS FIREHOUSE
Work on the foundation for the new firehouse at the junction of Fairmount and Rogers streets for the Oaklands district was started yesterday by the employees of Contractor D. H. Walker, who has been awarded the general contract for the erection of the building. The job will be rushed along and it is hoped the building will be completed before the snow sets.

BUSINESS INCREASING TO HOLD MASS MEETING

Postmaster Delisle Well
Satisfied With Report From
Centralville Postoffice

The report of the first month's business at the Centralville post station has been received by Postmaster Xavier A. Delisle and he stated today that the report is very satisfactory. As an example of the increased activities at the new station he cited the fact that during the first 10 days of its existence 43 sacks of mail were collected there for distribution in other sections of the city and out of town. During the last ten days of the month 76 sacks were collected at the station. The stamp sale during the last ten days of the month was three times the sale during the first ten days and during the whole month of September over 500 money orders were made at that station.

These figures, according to the postmaster, show that the station is becoming better patronized every day and a gradual increase of business is expected to continue for several months. The number of clerks at the station and the salary of the superintendent depend altogether upon the amount of business done by the station and it is up to the people of Centralville to patronize their own station if they desire it to be continued.

During the past two weeks members of the supervisory force from the main postoffice have inspected every route in Centralville and it is expected that a re-routing of all routes in that section of the city will become effective within a few days. The inspectors who investigated the Centralville routes were Assistant Superintendent of Mails Albert Willis and Foreman of Carriers George L. Hunt.

The re-routing of carrier's routes has been made possible owing to the fact that the men have been permitted to cover, since the institution of the Centralville office and, under the new routes, several of the carriers will have new territory added to their routes and the work laid out so that each carrier will have approximately the same distance to cover in the delivery of mail.

ately approved by Major F. J. Toohy, executive officer of the local reserve office, and forwarded to Boston for action.

General Pearson's military experience covers over 19 years' service with the national guard and is as follows: Second lieutenant in the Sixth Massachusetts in Porto Rico from 1898 to 1899; first lieutenant in the same unit from 1899 to 1905, captain of the same outfit from 1905 to 1911; brigadier general from 1911 to 1917.
